

ATLAS CHRISTMAS SPIEL 'IN COSMIC BAD TASTE'

LONDON (UPI)—A London newspaper today described President Eisenhower's Christmas message from the Atlas satellite as "A joke in cosmic bad taste."

"The Americans are to be congratulated on a scientific triumph; but their attempt to disguise the sinister undertones of this fearful weapon by dressing it up in the clothes of Father Christmas shows how tragically they misunderstand the true nature of the cold war," editorialized the Daily Telegraph.

"The sound of 'Hark the Herald Yankees Sing' from outer space shocks far more than it reassures."

THOUGHTS FOR CHRISTMAS

The Last Musings Of Victoria's 'Grand Old Man'

On Dec. 5 Victoria's "Grand old man," Herbert Kent, died at the age of 95 years, five months. He left behind him a remarkable testament of his philosophy, which seems particularly apropos at this Christmas-time.

With the kind permission of his family, The Times takes pleasure in printing herewith the second of four extracts from Herbert Kent's papers, which he called: "Some Musings and Recollections":

By HERBERT KENT

Recollections clinging to home and garden may have a streak of sentiment about them, but the man without such is a sorry spectacle.

One incident in my life I shall always remember. It was when I was quite a young lad and we were living in a house on the site of the Curry Funeral Parlors. Subsequent to our living there the house became Mrs. Cridge's School for Girls, and among those who attended were Georgie Waitt (later my wife), Miss Loewen (later Lady Barnard) and Miss Galley (later Mrs. Matson).

During our residence there I contracted diphtheria—how I know not—and the treatment in those days was to tie a small sponge on the end of a stick, put some caustic solution on it and swab the throat. Not a very pleasant cure but at that period quite effective. The doctor (J. W. Powell) called with the sponge, etc., and coaxed me to open my mouth. This took some time until my mother, in order to expedite the job, promised to give me 10 cents if I would do what the doctor wanted.

This did the trick, because 10 cents in those days was a large amount for a boy to have to spend, but very small for present day youngsters. However, the 10 cents opened my mouth and the swab did its work, and after that I did not mind the operations done daily for some days.

How strange it is that the greatest of all common-places—death—should always surprise us. Why do we pray in our Litany for God to deliver us from sudden death? If I could know that such would be the way of my own end, a real weight would be lifted from my mind.

To die quickly and suddenly, in all the activity of life, in comparative tranquillity, with no sickroom apparatus about, with no long lingering illness and weary waiting for the last call, that to my mind is a great joy, and although such things are ordained by God, yet I trust when the curtain falls for the last time on my earthly pilgrimage, that I shall be spared a long illness and pass peacefully and quietly away as both my parents and my wife did.

This business of life. Everybody is engaged in it, it has many names but it is all business. One can work at it or idle through it, but never escape it, because at the last every soul in the world must die in harness.

I think I can safely say and without fear of contradiction that I have worked at the business of life. I am meaning the word in its general term, and I have never been one to idle through it.

I started when I was 17½ years of age and stopped, when a period of sickness overtook me, at 82.

Henry Ford once said: "I have tried to live as mother would have wanted me to." My view exactly but I would include my father as well.

What is life? It is just a vapor which appearing for a little while soon vanishes away. It is a broad highway we must all pass along until we come to the end of the road and as far as our bodies are concerned, pass into oblivion. The soul soars triumphant above death and this sorry world, to the refuge of "the everlasting arms."

This world is a great wide road that we call life. It continues wide until the years pass, and then it narrows, and with old age soon ends in a blind road. But no, a blind road leads nowhere, whereas the road of life—when it comes to an end—leads us to a brighter road and a never ending rest, and a safe lodging with God.

70 Die in Bus Crash, 2 Tots Only Survivors

OAXACA, Mex. (AP)—Seventy persons were killed Sunday in one of Mexico's worst highway accidents. An overcrowded, speeding bus plunged into a ravine near this tropical city in southern Mexico.

There were only two survivors, a baby and a boy of 3. Both were critically injured.

The bus, with a legal capacity of 40 persons, was packed with villagers from San Dionisio Ocoatepec returning from Sunday market day at nearby Tlacolula. Many were riding on top of the bus, hanging onto its doors, and on the rear bumper. They were in a holiday mood.

The driver apparently lost control of his speeding vehicle on a curve and ran off the road.

Bodies were scattered over an area 100 yards square. Persons from San Dionisio Ocoatepec quickly gathered at the scene, looking for friends or kin. There were cries and shouts, weeping and cursing.

Among the dead was one of the owners of the bus line, Julio Ortiz Diaz.

DRUG FIRM PILL-FERED

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A drug firm has a serious vitamin deficiency.

A burglar took 16,000 vitamin pills Sunday from the Abbott Drug Company office. He didn't steal anything else. The pills were valued at $1,000.

30 Killed In Plunge

ATHENS (AP)—A crowded bus plunged off a mountain road into a 1,000-foot ravine 15 miles northeast of Yennema, Greece, today, killing 30 passengers and injuring five.

Most of the victims were teen-aged school girls returning to their villages in northwestern Greece from Yennema to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents.

Bodies of the victims were found strewn along the steep mountain slope down the side of the ravine. Several bodies were carried away by a stream at the bottom.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Teach us, Lord, to praise and thank Thee for all Thou art and all Thou givest us. Move our lips, so ready to blame and to complain, to bless and to rejoice. Give us victory in our lives and enable us to encourage those who seek Thy kingdom, Thy power and Thy glory in Jesus' name. Amen.

POPE JOHN TO VISIT ROME JAILS

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Precedent-breaking Pope John XXIII announced tonight that he plans to visit the jails of Rome on the day after Christmas.

Vatican sources said they could recall of no other pope in modern history who has ever gone to Rome's prisons at Christmas or any other time.

The Italian peasant's son who became pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church only eight weeks ago made his announcement casually during a brief talk with 200 Rome parish priests.

Tenement Blast Kills 4 Children

MONTREAL (CP)—Four bodies—all children—were taken from the rubble of a tenement building in east-end Montreal today after a sudden explosion heaved the roof off and tore the walls apart. Fire made rescue work hazardous.

Firemen struggling through the debris—beds, baths and bricks piled atop huge splinters of wood—were searching for a fifth body.

Four others were taken to hospital with injuries, one a woman, was reported in serious condition.

The blast shattered the brick and wood building, flipping debris into the street and smothering a nearby parked automobile. Windows of adjacent homes also cracked under the blast's impact.

Cause of the explosion was not known, but an official of Quebec Natural Gas Corporation said investigators searching the ruins and neighboring buildings so far have not found traces of gas.

Fire Kills Boy Lost In Confusion

COLDWATER, Ont. (CP)—A baby boy was burned to death in his home early Sunday when his father threw a brother and twin sister from a second-storey window but missed him in the confusion and smoke.

Kerry Laughlin was to have been christened that day with his one-year-old twin sister Kim.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laughlin were awakened early Sunday by the fire which swept their frame home in this village 10 miles northwest of Orillia in 20-below-zero weather.

Mr. Laughlin, 28, jumped into snow from the second-storey window. Mr. Laughlin, 32, dropped out Robert, 3, then three Kim and an armful of bedclothes into the snow.

He tried to return to the house but was forced back by flames.

'MILK FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN'

Store Staff Gives $100

With a healthy $100 assist from the T. Eaton Co. employees' charitable fund, The Times' Milk for Hungry Children campaign today climbed steadily toward the $6,000 mark.

Proceeds go to providing milk for starving children in Hong Kong, Korea and India. The milk is shipped by the Unitarian Service Committee, which is trying to raise a national total of $200,000.

The Times will keep its fund open until Dec. 30. Contributions will be received at The Times' main office, Fountain Circle, or downtown office, Broad Street.

.22 Rifle Bullet Meant for Dog Attacking Rabbits

By DAVID COWLISHAW

The 6½-year-old son of a Dutch immigrant was shot dead on his parents' small farm in Central Saanich Sunday by a neighbor who mistook the boy for a dog that had been attacking his rabbits.

Dead is Arrie Joannes Schut, one of five children of Dick Schut, 6929 Veyannes, a plywoods patcher at B.C. Forest Products.

The neighbor, Adam Reich, a dairyman who lives near the Schut home, was charged with manslaughter. Reich, free on $5,000 bail, will appear in court again Dec. 30.

Central Saanich police say the Schut boy died from a shell from a .22 rifle which apparently entered one shoulder, passed right through his body, and left through the other shoulder.

Inquest has been set tentatively at McCall's Funeral Home for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

According to police, the shooting took place shortly after noon Sunday when young Arrie went to play with a ball near a woodpile at the back of the ramshackle wood house.

Police said Reich was sitting in his house paralleling the Schuts' home 100 yards away. He apparently noticed movement near the woodpile, believed it to be a dog that recently had been attacking his rabbits, grabbed a .22 rifle and went out the back of his house.

Police said Reich then saw something move again near the woodpile, and fired.

Then he went back indoors.

"The eyes were strange. If you've ever seen an animal that's just been shot, you will know what I mean."

Then Schut knuckled his fists into his eyes and cried for a few moments.

"Sorry," he said, "but this is terrible happening just a few days before Christmas. We were going to have such a good time."

"You can't lose a son and not cry about it."

Mrs. Schut said she didn't believe what she saw when she first spotted Arrie lying on the ground near the woodpile.

"It was horrible, horrible. Rene (her only daughter) suggested we might be able to revive him by putting water on his head and in his mouth. She said she had seen it done on television."

'It Was No Good... Arrie Had Gone'

"We tried it, but it was no good. Arrie had gone."

As Mrs. Schut stood in the back garden of their small farm home today, her other children clustered around her—Dick, 8, Frank, 4, and Gerald, 2.

"They don't seem to understand what had happened," Mrs. Schut said. "They can't realize."

Her husband put his arm around her and looked red-eyed over the 5½ acres he bought to "try and make a decent living for my family."

"I am growing strawberries and cabbages," he said. "It's not much of a place but we were making something of it."

'God Says We Must Forgive, Forget'

"But God says we must forget and forgive. We will do it, but it is not always easy. Especially when your son has been taken from you."

The boy had attended grade one at Keating Elementary School.

Central Saanich Police Chief Fred Brownlee said Reich was arrested shortly after police arrived at the Schut home some time after 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He was released on bail later in the day.

Reich could not be located

Now I don't know if I feel like going on."

He paused to dab at his eyes with a large red handkerchief, then went on. "There are so many bills, bills, bills. How can we pay them?" and he wandered back into the house, his family trailing behind him.

Inside they sat around the kitchen table and took out a folder of family pictures. A small green alarm clock ticked merrily as they looked gloomily at photographs of their dead son and brother, and wood in the stove crackled nearby.

"Only yesterday we cut the Christmas tree," the father said. "Then, 20 minutes later, my boy is dead."

SHANTYTOWN SMASHED BY STORM, 31 KILLED

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) — Thirty-one persons were reported killed and thousands injured and homeless today as a result of an unprecedented all-night rainstorm.

Police recovered 23 bodies, but many more victims were known to be buried under shantytown huts and landslides of rock and sand.

The mayor opened the big Maracanan soccer stadium as a temporary shelter for the thousands of homeless families.

scribed by Santa Barbara sheriff John Ross as badly shaken upon learning of Baldonado's statement.

"How could he say that?" Moya asked. "Believe me... believe me!"

Mrs. Duncan, too, has insisted she knows nothing of her daughter-in-law's disappearance. Gustafson said she gave no statement when questioned again after finding of the body.

Police say Mrs. Duncan has been married five times in eight years. She is charged with posing in court here as her son's wife, along with a paid confederate, to obtain a fraudulent annulment of her son's marriage last August.

Olga came here from Vancouver a year ago. She was born near Dauphin, Man.

It was the discovery of the spurious annulment, authorities say, that caused them to begin an intensive search for the missing daughter-in-law.

FACE KIDNAP CHARGE

Charges are on file at Santa Barbara accusing Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado of conspiring to kidnap and murder Olga Duncan. They are held in lieu of $100,000 bail apiece.

Gustafson said he intends to present murder charges against all three at a session of the grand jury in Ventura Friday.

Police, led by Baldonado, found the body of the 30-year-old Canadian nurse, clothed only in a filmy nylon bathrobe, buried at the bottom of a 20-foot embankment on Castas Pass, 19 miles northwest of Ventura.

Baldonado said she fought bitterly for her life in the early hours of Nov. 18 before being slugged unconscious with a pistol.

KILLED BY TURNS

Gustafson quoted Baldonado as saying he and Moya took turns holding the struggling woman while the other dug the 16-inch-deep grave. Both men throttled her, Baldonado's statement said.

Baldonado was further quoted as saying he and Moya went to Olga Duncan's Santa Barbara apartment after midnight November 17 and forced her at gunpoint to accompany them.

"I believed that they would

Kuczyk, a railroad worker, was reached by telephone. His wife answered and insisted on being told what the call was about. When told her daughter was dead, she left the telephone with a moan.

Mrs. Kuczyk was taken to Benito Hospital for what was described as a nervous breakdown. Her condition was fairly good.

Frost Adds Four Men In Cabinet Shuffle

TORONTO (CP) — Premier Frost today brought four new men into the Ontario cabinet and announced the resignation of Provincial Secretary Dunbar.

In a major cabinet shuffle, four other cabinet members relinquished double portfolios or assumed new posts.

James A. Maloney, 53, member for Renfrew South, was appointed minister of mines.

George C. Wardrop, 62, member for Port Arthur, becomes minister for reform institutions.

John P. Roberts, 41, member for London North, becomes minister without portfolio and a member of Ontario water resources commission.

John H. Root, 50, member for Wellington-Dufferin, becomes minister without portfolio.

'COULD START WAR'

Secret Rocket Firings Rapped

WASHINGTON (CP) — Fear that an unannounced satellite launching could accidentally touch off nuclear war is expressed in a report drafted by a congressional committee's staff.

The report was prepared before the launching of the new Atlas satellite — a plan known beforehand to only 35 men.

But George J. Feldman, staff director for the House of Representatives' special committee on astronautics and space exploration, said Saturday:

"The launching of Atlas gives particular moment to the report. The danger is clear and present, as the committee staff pointed out."

The report posed this question: What if Russia or the U.S. mistakes an unannounced satellite launching for a war missile and fires off a counter-attack?

It also recommended an advance filing of satellite flight plans.

Before the Atlas took off even persons in the blockhouse thought it was to be another test of its qualities as an intercontinental ballistic missile. The report said:

"The technically advanced nations could some day obliterate themselves — not for any real cause, but purely through accident — by throwing the automatic war switch in the mistaken belief that an attack is being made. Conversely, the lack of flight plans might mean inability to protect oneself if a real attack occurs."

Meanwhile, scientists were ready today for more two-way radio contacts with the U.S. Atlas missile-satellite, now in its fourth day of hurtling about the globe.

There were indications defence department communications specialists might try new tests later in the day.

Radio contacts like those carried out successfully during the last few days are attempted when the nearly 4½-ton satellite reaches a favorable position in relation to four sending and receiving stations in the United States.

The weekend saw a number of voice and radio-teletype messages transmitted to the fast-travelling satellite and relayed back to posts in California, Georgia, Texas and Arizona.

Most of the words that flashed back and forth were those of President Eisenhower in the message sent up with the Atlas in recorded form, then erased by remote control and sent again.

The weekend tests involved (1) relaying Eisenhower's voice-recorded message; (2) relaying in coded form that message and another by radio-teletypewriter; and (3) leaving the messages in the satellite's tape recorder for a while before triggering their transmission to ground stations.

Sunday afternoon, a station at Fort Stewart, Ga., sent out seven teletypewriter messages simultaneously to the Atlas. All seven messages carried Eisenhower's words. Then, on radio command, all seven were returned from the satellite simultaneously.

1,500 DAYS WITHOUT A FATALITY

MEDICINE HAT, ALA. (CP) — Motorists today parked free of charge on Medicine Hat streets in observance of this southeastern Alberta city's traffic fatality-free record.

On Sunday, Medicine Hat passed 1,500 days without a traffic fatality, a North American record for cities of 20,000 or more, and gay blue and red cars were placed on the city's 500 meters to allow a day of free parking.

The city traffic committee immediately set a new goal — 1,600 traffic fatality-free days.

Goldfine Jailed 3 Months, Fined $1,500 for Contempt

BOSTON (AP) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine and his blonde secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, today were given jail terms by a federal court for criminal contempt in failure to furnish tax officials with full records of Goldfine textile mills.

Goldfine was ordered to serve three months and Miss Paperman 10 days. Judge Charles E. Gwydzinski Jr., who convicted them last Friday, said the sentences will start Jan. 7.

In a separate action immediately afterward, the two were fined on civil contempt charges brought by the United States Security and Exchange Commission.

Judge Wyzanski fined Goldfine $1,500 and Miss Paperman $500. Alwyn Jealous, an officer of Goldfine's East Boston Company, a realty firm, also was fined $500. All were charged with failing to file required reports with the SEC.

The government told the court the reports now have been filed and the civil contempt has been cured. The only avenue of punishment was a fine for expenses incurred in securing the reports.

In delaying imprisonment until Jan. 7, the judge said to Goldfine:

"I have no wish that you spend this season in jail and I wish to give you adequate opportunity to present this case to the court of appeals. Bail is denied."

GOLDFINE DISMAYED

A look of dismay crossed the 67-year-old Goldfine's face as he stood behind a railing separating him from six defence lawyers.

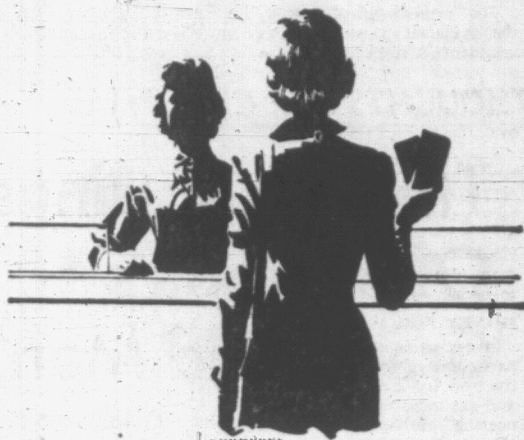

Miss Paperman sagged a bit as the judge passed sentence.

Judge Wyzanski told Miss Paperman he based his decision on the fact that both she and Goldfine were "intimate with tribunal proceedings and were well aware of the penalties for flouting the authority of this court."

THIRD CONTEMPT

Goldfine also is involved in a third contempt case. He pleaded not guilty last Friday to a contempt of Congress charge in Washington in connection with his alleged failure to answer questions about his financial affairs before a congressional subcommittee last summer.

Goldfine is due to go on trial in the Washington case March 16.

Russia Boosts Spending

Budget Unveils Big New Program

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet government today announced a vast new program of spending on scientific research, social welfare and expansion of the Soviet economy.

Finance Minister Arseny Zverev outlined the program to a joint session of the Supreme Soviet, the parliament of the Soviet Union, which opened its annual meeting to approve the government budget for the coming year.

The biggest jump came in the projected government investments to expand the Soviet production facilities—a huge increase of 71,400,000,000 rubles—or nearly $18,000,000,000—over the amount spent in 1958.

Zverev said the expansion fund would total 484,300,000,000 ($121,075,000,000), including direct government investments of 308,700,000,000 rubles, and 175,600,000,000 rubles of profits from government enterprises to be plowed back.

MONEY FOR INDUSTRY

Investments will be increased, particularly, he continued, in the iron and steel, chemical, oil and gas industries, and in engineering. He also announced an allocation of 30,300,000,000 rubles ($7,575,000,000) for the expansion of agriculture.

Zverev said 27,300,000,000 rubles ($6,825,000,000) would be appropriated for scientific research. He compared this to a previous appropriation of 23,900,000,000.

He said 232 billion rubles, or $58,000,000,000 would be spent in 1959 on education, health, social insurance and maternity benefits for prolific mothers, an increase of nearly 20,000,000,000 rubles over the 1958 expenditure. This will include more than 94,000,000,000 rubles for education, 44,000,000,000 for the health program, more than 88,000,000,000 for social insurance and 5,500,000,000 for mothers.

"As compared with 1958, the national income will increase by 8 per cent and will be 140 per cent greater than in 1950," Zverev said.

By contrast with the big rise in expenditures for education and social benefits, a slight decrease was promised in the defence appropriation. This was put at 96,100,000,000 ($24,025,000,000) as compared with a 96,300,000,000 rubles.

The actual figure for Soviet defence spending is far greater than that given for the defence appropriation but cannot be estimated. This is because much of the Kremlin's military expenditure is concealed under such budget headings as capital investment, scientific research and educational appropriations.

INDUSTRIAL OUTPUT UP

The draft economic plan, Zverev continued, calls for a 7.7-per-cent increase in the gross industrial output in 1958 and for more than 800,000,000 square feet of new housing during the year.

Zverev noted that the 1958 budget for operating the government was 11,500,000,000 rubles, about 400,000,000 below that for 1959. He said the cost was still too high. He urged simplification of government organization and a cut in the number of state employees.

Premier Nikita Khrushchev was on hand for the session, along with other members of the praesidium which acts for the Supreme Soviet when it is not meeting.

SOLARIUM PARTY

Santa's Packsack Was Full

More than 35 children at the Queen Alexandra Solarium, Sunday, were given a joyous Christmas party featuring band music, carols, western songs and gifts for all.

Climax of the party was a visit by Santa Claus.

The large playroom-auditorium was packed with children, parents, members of the Solarium Junior League and Solarium officials.

The festivities opened with the arrival of the Eagle's Band and a small detachment of Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

CAROLS

The Victoria and Oak Bay High Schools' Choirs thrilled the audience with their Christmas carols.

The big event was the arrival of Santa Claus, who distributed gifts to the happy children. There were toys for everyone.

LAING CALLS FOR ACTION PROGRAM

Jobless Horde B.C.-Bound

Thousands of men are hitchhiking and riding the freights toward the coast in the greatest migration of unemployed since the 30s, Liberal Leader Arthur Laing said today.

He claimed "officialdom is still looking the other way."

Pope's First Yule Message On Tuesday

VATICAN CITY (Reuters)—Pope John XXIII will broadcast to the world the first Christmas message of his reign at 3 a.m. PST Tuesday, it was announced today.

Vatican Radio will broadcast the message short wave over 31.10, 25.17, 19.84 and 13.94 metres.

Recordings of the message will be broadcast later by standard-wave stations in Canada and the United States and throughout the world.

Vatican Radio will transmit translations in about 30 languages.

In a prepared statement, Mr. Laing called for a six-point program of co-operation by federal, provincial and municipal governments, to aid the situation.

It should be instituted by management committees on unemployment, which should be set up in each area of unemployed concentration, and include representatives of Unemployment Insurance Commission, local charities, the churches and organized labor.

The committee should: Set "tolerable minimum standards of food and bedding for all in distress." Co-operate with labor unions in creation of work, "which without their approval in rates of pay, would go undone." Make a complete study of causes of seasonal unemployment and reasons for unemployed migration.

De Gaulle Gets Big Mandate

By HARVEY HUDSON Of 79,468 valid ballots, complete returns gave de Gaulle 62,392.

PARIS (AP)—Premier de Gaulle's handwagon rolled on in France with his third personal voting victory Sunday. As expected, members of the electoral college overwhelmingly elected him the first president of the Fifth Republic.

The 68-year-old wartime hero, who stepped aside as premier in 1946 rather than play second fiddle to the National Assembly, now assumes the presidency for a seven-year term with greatly increased powers. He will take over the office from 76-year-old Rene Coty Jan. 8.

Shortly afterward, de Gaulle will nominate the new premier.

PROBABLY DEBRE

This is generally expected to be Senator Michel Debre, one of de Gaulle's staunchest supporters and one of the chief artisans of the new constitution.

The "rule by assembly" of the Fourth Republic collapsed just as de Gaulle had predicted. Under special powers granted him to reform the French state after the revolt last May, de Gaulle wrote a new constitution with a strong executive.

His first victory came when the new constitution was approved by an 80-per-cent vote in a September plebiscite.

NEW ASSEMBLY

In November, a new National Assembly was elected with a preponderance of de Gaulle followers.

In Sunday's presidential per cent of the valid ballots of the Grand Electors, an electoral college representing the French mainland and overseas territories.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

We take this opportunity to wish our Customers and Friends a Very Merry Christmas and to extend to them our Best Wishes for 1959.

Looking back on an extremely busy year, we know that many hard-of-hearing persons will enjoy this Christmas far more than last. They can now hear the Christmas Services and Music and derive far more pleasure from the festivities, thanks to the tremendous improvement in hearing aids.

We also know that the families and friends of these people will also have a happier Christmas through realizing the joy that has come to those who now hear—but who could not hear last year.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Wake Up Tomorrow Morning* Without Arthritis-Rheumatism Pains...Or Pay Nothing!

CONSISTENT RESULTS PROVED IN THREE LEADING HOSPITALS

Three leading U.S. hospitals have just completed over a year of extensive clinical tests with a brilliant new discovery, developed by an eminent doctor—a professor of medicine at a leading medical college. The results have been way "beyond all expectations" for the vast majority of sufferers. Users, taking it at night for the very first time, reported they woke up in the morning without arthritic pain; that the pain of stiffness and swelling and pain in crippled joints soon started to be relieved and they could move around more freely once again within a week or two. The name of the discovery is Sustamin 2-12.

* Take Sustamin 2-12 once every 12 hours as directed on label for continuous all day...all night pain relief!

Get Sustamin 2-12 with this amazing Money-Back Guarantee. Take according to directions. You MUST wake up tomorrow morning without pain...enjoy blessed relief all day, all night...and pain-induced stiffness, of joints relieved in 5 days...or return unused contents for full refund. Back to Work

AFTER A WORLD TOUR IN which all Canadians took pride Mr. Diefenbaker is back at work in Ottawa, with the next session of Parliament less than a month away.

Thus ends the first phase of his career as prime minister. He has had eighteen months in office to study the domestic business of Canada from the inside. He has studied the outside world extensively and at first hand. Now comes the next and hard phase in which decisions long postponed must be faced and settled.

In his first parliamentary session as prime minister Mr. Diefenbaker could do little, for he controlled no majority. The second session, early in 1938, was restricted by this same uncertainty.

When Parliament met again after the Government's overwhelming victory at the polls of March 31 Mr. Diefenbaker had insufficient time to devise basic policies and, for the most part, avoided them while he mastered a new political situation and broke in his cabinet team.

In the session opening next month, however, the nation will expect him to begin at least to master the problems arising from, and exaggerated by, nearly two years of confusion.

Only the extreme partisans of opposition will find any satisfaction in the growing gravity of those problems, for they are not primarily Mr. Diefenbaker's problems but the people's. None of us can escape them. All of us must hope that they will be solved.

How, it may be asked, did Canada reach its present economic and financial position which the Ottawa correspondents are now beginning (and with good reason) to call a "crisis?"

Some of its causes lay entirely outside the Federal Government's control. The present Government could not control the world market whose slump so grievously damaged our great exporting industries and was largely responsible for our business recession. The former Government could not control these forces either, though the Conservative Opposition of those days blamed it for everything and therefore can hardly complain if it is now unfairly blamed in turn.

But it is clear in retrospect that the present Government seriously mismanaged the forces within its control, mainly the forces rather loosely called money.

Hence we have today a gigantic federal deficit that compels gigantic borrowings, drives down the price of bonds, raises all interest rates, discourages investment by junior governments and private investors, inflates the currency and helps to raise prices. If this is not a crisis there has never been a crisis in Canada.

The most ardent friends of Mr. Diefenbaker must realize now that in the carefree days of Opposition he completely misunderstood these things.

Until last summer it might have been argued that the Government was in control of the situation and would soon overcome it. No one could say that after the public suddenly refused to buy more federal bonds; after the price of bonds fell drastically and interest rates rose; after the deficit far exceeded earlier estimates; after prices continued to rise though Mr. Fleming had said in his budget speech that they would remain stable; and after unemployment sharply increased in the autumn.

The Government, while it was an Opposition, had expected to reduce expenditures and taxes by half a billion dollars a year. Instead, it raised expenditures to a new peak and reduced taxes by $178 millions in 1938, even this minor cut being of doubtful wisdom in the face of the increasing deficit.

The Government had expected to drive down interest rates, apparently under the impression that they were subject to its daily will when, in fact, they are subject to the money market as demoralized by the Government's borrowings. In the event, interest rates, which the Conservatives had denounced as too high and the major cause of all our troubles have lately reached the highest point since 1935—and are still going up as bonds go down.

The Government had expected to cure unemployment, which it blamed on its predecessor, and Mr. Diefenbaker said over and over again last spring, no doubt sincerely, that the cure already was under way. But the latest figures show no cure.

The Government had hoped to alter the pattern of our foreign trade but basically it remains unaltered (except for a fall in some vital departments) because that pattern is largely made outside our borders, not in Ottawa.

In these and many other fields the Government has been disappointed by its earlier miscalculations. These the people may be willing to forgive in a new Government and in extremely difficult circumstances. Nevertheless after his period of apprenticeship and re-appraisal, they have every right to expect the prime minister to act decisively in the approaching session. There is no use crying over spilled milk. The important thing is not to spill any more.

Fish and a Little Power

FISHERIES PEOPLE OF BRITISH Columbia have looked at the Fraser River Board's preliminary report on flood control and hydro-electric power in the Fraser River basin and have given it cautious approval.

Senator Tom Reid, chairman of the International Pacific Salmon Fisheries Commission, calls it "an apparently happy compromise" between the fisheries interests and those seeking electric power from the river system. Mr. C. H. Clay, chief Pacific Coast engineer of the department of fisheries adds: "I am happy with the plan."

This is a marked change of tone from that adopted previously by fisheries authorities in the fish-vs-power controversy—and for good reason.

Fisheries interests recognize and appreciate the competence of their representative on the Fraser River Board, Mr. A. J. Whitmore, director of the Pacific area, Department of Fisheries. They recognize and appreciate, also, the benefits to fisheries that could accrue from flood control dams on the upper tributaries of the Fraser, and they have apparent confidence in the belief that such damming is not the thin end of the wedge for a great dam in the main stem of the river.

The report is a preliminary approach only to possible future dams and their employment to generate hydro-electric power. Three years more of intensive investigation of the proposal is recommended. This, obviously, is no power play in either sense of the term.

Flood control could protect river spawning "pinks," the second most important commercial salmon species in British Columbia. Uncontrolled flow of the river can leave spawning beds with too little moisture in a very dry year, or, in flood, can scour out or silt up those beds, with fatal results to the eggs in the gravel.

Conceivably the higher percentage of hatch under regulated stream flow would compensate for possible sockeye loss entailed by destruction of fry passing through penstocks from low-level dams. On balance, fisheries would probably gain as much as they lost, provided no high dams existed on important fish streams.

Apart from their direct concern in the salmon, fisheries authorities here, as British Columbians, understand, as all other citizens should understand, the necessity for protecting low-lying land nearer the mouth of the Fraser. If control measures are not taken by dams on tributaries, costly and extensive diking will be required closer to the estuary.

If water can be impounded upstream, severe flooding can be reduced if not eliminated. And if, from this impounding, some electric power can be developed for sale on a local basis, then a return can be gained on the investment in dams.

As long as the fisheries interests can be convinced that the proposal will not lead to the usurpation of the Pacific's greatest salmon stream by power interests, to the serious destruction of the salmon, the fisheries authorities will have little complaint.

Winnowing the Grain

SIR MALCOLM SARGENT, THE British composer-musician, is on record, and on the CBC air, with the observation that: "The music being composed today is like the music being composed at any time: most of it isn't very good."

Obviously a philosopher has spoken. There, in a single sentence, is expressed a very pungent criticism of modern composers, plus a philosophical acceptance of their shortcomings and a willingness to accept what is good despite its minority aspect.

It is the outlook of the thrasher, who expects to sift a good deal of chaff before gathering the few kernels of truth. That is life, but few of us are able to admit it calmly.

Request Performance

IT was perfect of its kind, as such things go—perfect in what it achieved according to plan, and perfect in its errors. By that I mean that the errors, although not planned were nevertheless expected, indeed inevitable, and when they occurred they were exactly the right kind of errors, gaffes, slips, snarl-ups, snafus, upsets—call them what you will. I refer, of course, to the school concert out in our neighborhood, whose anticipated excellence was attested by the standing-room-only attendance. There were far more parents, grandparents and aunts present than the mere call of duty required. One can only believe that many of them were there for sheer love of the theatre and the excitement of a first-night.

To the veterans of such affairs, of course, everything seemed very much in order. The slips were an eagerly anticipated and keenly enjoyed part of the show. But even the uninitiated, the cheechaks, the tender-feet—and tender-other-sections too, for school auditorium chairs have not changed much in theory or application over the last fifty years—even these were delighted rather than dismayed by such irregularities as appeared upon the stage.

While the "incidents" were the salt and sauce, let us not, however, underestimate the main course. For here were the meat and the bread, the sustenance and nourishment not only of the school but of the nation, and there was not an adult in that crowded hall who did not find the feast palatable, profitable and altogether admirable.

At times it was difficult to decide which presented the better show—the children or the audience. When a stageful of Johnnies and Susies was exposed to view, the fathers' backs straightened to full altitude, the mothers' necks lengthened by several inches, and anxious eyes scanned the little mob behind the footlights until they focused on the one Johnny or Susie who mattered. From then on, for any particular family, the stage was virtually empty of all but the specific young hopeful who had drawn them to attend.

The appearance of the cast was invariably greeted by friendly calls from the body of the hall—calls emanating from younger members of the family who a year or two from now will in turn tread the boards with similar grace and self-possession and answer such calls with a similar unobtrusive wave of the hand.

There's "Bill!" "Hi Joey!" "Lookit Freddie!" "I see Tom!" With such comradesly acclaim some of the mystique may have been stripped from the players; but certainly little of the appreciation, and very definitely none of the affection, with which they were regarded.

The humor which was produced on purpose was received by the audience with full recognition. The inadvertent, unrehearsed comedy, while noted with delight, brought laughter that was obviously kindly. After all, these men and women were, in a sense, laughing into their mirrors—and that calls for the gentle touch.

No harm can be done by savoring in retrospect the sauce that seasoned the food. There was the inevitable little boy who started onstage ahead of his cue and was brought up short by a pedagogical arm that emerged from behind a side curtain and hooked a curved forefinger into the back of his collar.

There was the large group, almost obligatory for such occasions, which recited or sang—it was difficult to be sure which—inaudibly and interminably, but with evident gusto down at their end of the hall.

There was the little fellow who arrived to join the choir almost as it finished its turn, and pushed and squeezed his way into the line barely in time to join in the final note and march off, in triumph, his duty done.

There was the soldier who dropped his sword and retrieved it almost before it had time to bounce on the floor.

There was the little chap who got caught in front of the curtain as it swept across the stage and suffered a moment of panic as he clawed to find the centre opening. (Who has not at one time or another dreamt of finding himself in this predicament and awakened stiff with horror?) So sympathetic was the audience, there was almost a cheer of relief when the young actor found the exit.

There was the little girl who, supposed to walk off the stage with her male partner, found him unexpectedly reluctant and had to drag him away with a firm grip on his arm—a little vignette of real life embedded like a nugget in the clay of pretence.

Long Armed

There was the tiny singer whose new white shirtsleeves unaccountably came down over his fingertips but caused him only passing annoyance.

There was the squad of six soldiers which suffered a curtain-time casualty and had to appear as a slightly unbalanced five. (It was later learned that a torn uniform had brought into play an old military maxim to the effect that discretion in absentia is the better part of valor in full view.)

There was the sprig of holly, supposedly dropped by a falcon flying high over the city square. It descended from the sky with agonizing slowness on the end of a thick cord which might well have supported the entire tree and which gave up its treasure to the falconer's waiting hands only after a bit of a struggle.

There were the timid ones, the brash ones, the wrigglers, the scufflers, the gigglers, the sobbersides. There were the whisperers, and the few who, earning the undying gratitude of would-be listeners in the back rows, spoke out in astonishingly stentorian tones.

There was the customary extravaganza of elves, pied-pipers, courtiers, Santas, animals, whiskers askew, flowers and not-quite-identified characters.

The Angels Did Say

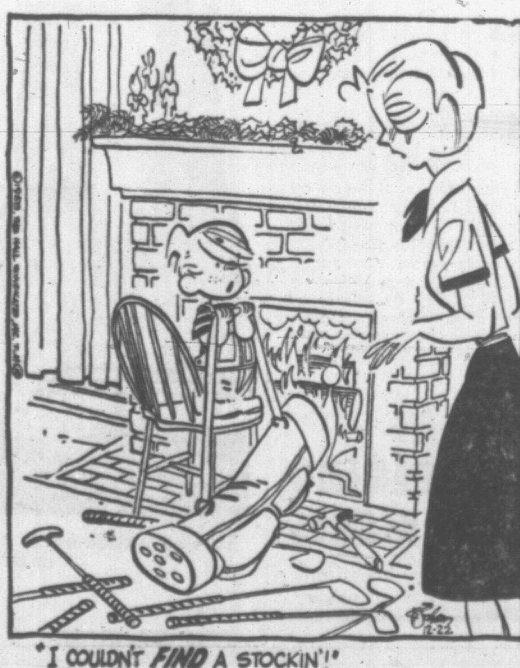

There were the clear young voices floating carols out into the darkened auditorium from familiar scenes of Bethlehem's rooftops and the starlit manger, bringing a suggestion of lump into many a parental throat.

There were the home-made costumes, sewn with love and pride.

And back of it all there was the unmistakable evidence of conscientious training, of youthful response to the dedicated guidance without which none of it would have been possible.

It was, in short, a typical school Christmas concert, one of many thousands seen these evenings across the breadth of our land. May there be many thousands more.

DENNIS THE MENACE

Fog Inside and Out

LONDON—Charles Dickens could seize a London fog and twist it to his purpose. It was a pity he was not in his old place in the press gallery to work his magic again in describing the events in the House of Commons last week.

There was fog outside which threatened to delay members from getting home; there was a political fog inside which prevented those who saw the clearest from telling what they saw in terms which made the vision unforgettable to dimmer eyes.

Indeed, the most astonishing feature of last week's debates was the poor attendance. Nine-tenths of the members could not be bothered to hear about rate of expansion of Sino-Soviet trade, or about the future of Germany, or about the permanent shrinkage of the coal industry.

Mr. Maudling, the Paymaster-General, who is the senior spokesman for the Ministry of Power in the House of Commons, wound up a debate on the coal industry in which the Coal Board's decision to close 36 unremunerative pits had been announced.

The position of the industry, said Mr. Maudling, must give concern to every one who had a proper interest in the affairs of the country.

Yet, as he noted, not more than 30 or 40 members were present in the final stages of the debate. What was the reason, he asked. Lack of urgency and passion? Fog? The fact that there was to be no vote at the end of the debate?

Same Questions

Exactly the same questions could have been asked of the debate on Commonwealth trade, which had taken place the previous day, or of the debate on the European situation which followed the coal debate. For Commonwealth trade there were 20 members on the Opposition benches and 30 on the Government benches.

For Europe, there were about 20 Opposition members and 40 Government supporters in the House. It certainly could not be said by anybody that these three subjects make no demands on the best thought that politicians can bring to them.

They are all full of complexities and dangers. They all raise urgent issues. One is driven almost to conclude that members are wearied of seeking the right answers, or despair of hearing good—or promising—news. If this is the correct explanation, the outlook for Britain is sombre.

The debate on Commonwealth trade provided the most striking illustration of Westminster's prevailing inertia. Here was the Chancellor of the Exchequer Mr. Amory, speaking about the Commonwealth as a dynamic partnership in an expanding world community. Glorious. Exciting. But his speech was one of the dullest he has ever delivered as Chancellor.

Here was the President of the Board of Trade, Sir David Eccles, calling for an heroic effort—in dulcet tones. (It was, nevertheless, a good speech, suffering no doubt from the fact that there were so few members present to be turned into heroes.)

Communist Competition

The House heard speeches from three members—Mr. Robin Turton, Mr. Harvey Rhodes, and Mr. Ernest Thornton—who have only recently returned from visits to the Far East and who left their tiny audience in no doubt that dynamism and heroism are needed at once if the Commonwealth, and indeed the Western alliance, are to meet the rapidly developing economic competition of Russia and China.

As Mr. Rhodes put it, anyone who is talking about the Far East, and is six months away from the subject, does not know what he is talking about.

Will the absent members ever read the debate they did not hear? Will they take the point which was made by Mr. Tilney and repeated by Sir David Eccles that the richer nations of the West must help to raise the standard of life in the poorer nations as an act that is virtuous in itself, and quite apart from the need to offer the poorer countries a better bargain—a more humane bargain, as Sir David put it—than the Communists can?

Broadly, the Government's view is that industrial expansion must be the basis of any improvement in living conditions anywhere, and that the United States economy is the key factor for industrial demand. There could be no satisfactory reply to Russia's use of her new economic power except to expand the exchange of goods in the free world—and to pay cash for what we buy. (By special arrangement with The Manchester Guardian.)

Support for Manager

Please permit me to convey my congratulations to the newly re-elected councillors and to express my thanks to the people of Saanich who supported me at the polls.

This support surely is indicative of a growing demand for more efficient, less costly administration under a fully qualified and thoroughly experienced manager.

Who Is the Canadian?

Did you know that, more than 35 years ago a group of men founded in Victoria a society that now has become the only nation-wide Canadian patriotic society in existence?

From early days this group has either initiated or supported measures that later became government legislation. The abolition of appeals to the Privy Council, and equality of status given by the Statute of Westminster are two notable examples. Often the ideas were bitterly opposed by certain elements. They shouted revolution, disloyalty, then.

A current issue is that of a national flag. The opponents are busy once more. I refer to a letter published Dec. 12, written by H. F. Orchard of Port Dover, Ontario. He made reference to noisy minorities led by revolutionary demagogues that suggested the Red Ensign was not the flag for Canada.

Not only are the minorities not satisfied with the three tiny maple leaves on the merchant marine flag of Great Britain, we have a flag we fly that has a green maple leaf on a field of red and white. We refer to our flag as the Canadian flag. At last we are united under a symbol the emotional equal of the tingle experienced when massed voices sing O Canada.

Dual nationality is a political invention not a heartfelt emotion. Individuals who speak of Commonwealth ties in the same breath as love of country, may admire and respect Canada but they do not love her.

I ask you who is the minority, or more to the point who is the Canadian? CLAUDE H. SEARY.
2863 Glen Lake Rd.

Gesellschafter

I doubt if any other paper in Canada has had so many sound editorials on our banking and monetary problems as have appeared in The Times in the last few years. A recent editorial "Money by Printing Press" warns us that there will probably be further inflation.

In March, 1937, when Mr. J. E. Coyne, governor of the Bank of Canada, proposed that loans for long term housing projects should be financed from savings accounts not only the Bank of Montreal but all the other chartered banks opposed this sound proposal. In the last few years the banks have loaned over one billion dollars for housing projects. This is one of the reasons why we have "creeping inflation."

No one could possibly read all the books that have been published on money and banking. But there is one book that every one interested in these vital subjects should read.

In 1929, the first English edition of Silvio Gesell's "The Natural Economic Order" was published. Many leading economists were influenced by this work. J. M. Keynes, later Lord Keynes and governor of the Bank of England, wrote that Gesell's monetary theories were sound and stated "I believe that the future will learn more from the spirit of Gesell than from that of Marx."

Two men who later became chancellors of the exchequer also testified to the soundness of Gesell's theories. These men were H. T. H. Gaiskell and Sir Stafford Cripps. Sir Stafford, in a lecture given in the depression year of 1931, stated "And here the proposal of Silvio Gesell, of putting money under compulsory circulation, is the solution for which I and my friends have been waiting."

The revised English edition, 1938, of "The Natural Economic Order" has just been received by the Victoria Public Library and should be studied by every one interested in having the government maintain a stable price level.

'The Party That Gets, Etc.'

According to Mr. Lee Briggs, the people of B.C. made a terrible mistake in voting Social Credit six years ago.

Now he wants them to dismiss this government immediately, because they have made new highways, and improved the old ones, they have built new bridges, exceeding anything done in the previous 94 years of B.C. administration. They have started a tunnel under the Fraser. Mr. Briggs says there is something very sinister about this. They have made the PGE run from Vancouver to Port St. John thus opening the Peace River area. They have doubled the cost of living bonus paid to old age pensioners. Many provinces do not give a bonus at all. They have improved the hospital scheme by a 2 per cent sales tax so everybody pays his share. They have reduced by $28 land taxes to every owner of a home.

Now Mr. Editor, why go on, they evidently have tried to give the people of B.C. good government. But, says Mr. Briggs, by bringing or trying to bring outside capital to further develop B.C.'s resources and seeking to create new jobs by opening up the north, they are giving them away; Why, says Mr. Briggs, these people will take 16 billion cubic feet of timber without any cost to them. What a feat of magic.

So he calls on the Provincial Cabinet to cross the floor, though he says he is neither Liberal, Conservative or CCF and hints darkly if they don't it's because of the lush party funds they now allegedly control.

Since they will not go into oblivion with Mr. Briggs let us wish him a safe journey back East, where they have no party funds? and no Social Credit governments.

Family Breakup Harming Japan

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

Japanese women can earn twice as much selling drink—and themselves—in bars as they can at skilled office work.

"This disparity has contributed to the general lowering of morality in Japan," says David E. Woodsworth, executive director of Victoria's Family and Children's Aid Society, just back from a three months' tour of Tokyo, Osaka and Kobe.

"Many of these women are war widows who live immorally in order to feed large families. They may be highly-trained stenographers but they cannot live on the low wages paid for this work."

Mr. Woodsworth believes Japan is due also to the break-up of the old family system.

BROKEN UP

"Before the war Japanese families lived as units in one location and the children knew they could always go home in trouble. Now these units are broken up and the children have lost their old security."

"This has resulted in a tremendous increase in juvenile delinquency—far worse than anything we have in Canada."

Born at Kingston, Ont., Mr. Woodsworth went to Japan as an infant and lived there until 1936. He speaks Japanese well and is the better able therefore to understand Japanese problems.

His father, a United Church missionary, gave years of service to the Japanese people.

UNREST

Mr. Woodsworth found a "seething unrest" below the apparent acceptance of American standards, fomented by the grave need for more resources and more employment to house and feed a teeming population.

"With a population exceeding 60,000,000, Japan is desperate for improved living conditions and I feel we should do something about it."

"By 'we' I mean Canada and all responsible countries. We cannot ignore the plight of the Japanese."

SEVEN IN ROOM

In Tokyo, Osaka and Kobe, Mr. Woodsworth visited families of seven or eight living, eating and sleeping in one small room on a meagre diet.

"The struggle for existence and the competition for work is almost beyond our comprehension in Canada and the housing shortage is desperate."

Mr. Woodsworth's main reason for returning to Japan was to attend a conference of the International Union of Child Welfare and an international conference on social work.

His advice as a successful social worker in Canada was eagerly sought, and he was able to study Japanese social work on a comparative basis.

Surprisingly perhaps, he found that Japanese institutions for delinquents are "better than our own."

"They are mainly open-type institutions with cottages administered by husband and wife teams to create a family atmosphere."

$90 AVERAGE MONTHLY PAY FOR JAPANESE

The average Japanese family lives on about $90 a month and the cost of living is not much lower than in Canada, says David E. Woods.

Just back from a three months' tour of Japan, Mr. Woodsworth said he paid $5 a day for a room and two meals in a medium hotel.

"In Canada I would expect to pay $7 a day for that kind of accommodation—that is about the ratio."

6 More Ships Escape River Ice

MONTREAL (CP)—Six European ships broke through the mounting St. Lawrence River ice blockade between Montreal and Quebec City during the weekend to steam confidently for the open waters of the Atlantic and their home ports.

More were to follow them into the St. Lawrence estuary below Quebec City today, including five which were tied up at the provincial capital during the night.

Twenty other ocean ships still had to break free of the growing ice jams in the 180 miles from Montreal down river to Quebec City. Icebreakers worked furiously to help the ships as sub-zero temperatures persisted.

"JAMS ALL OVER"

"There's jams all over," said a spokesman for the transport department's signal service. "It's the cold that's doing it."

The jams are not only threatening the ships—they are also causing the water level around Montreal to rise to dangerous levels.

Sweden's state-owned iron and steel works at Lulea announced a $16,000,000 expansion program for 1959.

3 DIE IN VANCOUVER CAR-POLE SMASH-UPS

VANCOUVER (CP) — Traffic accidents brought instant death to three men when two cars smashed into utility poles in separate incidents here Sunday.

The victims were identified as J. Victor Beadle, 32, Albert Cooper, 44, and William Thurston, 45, all of Vancouver.

Cooper and Thurston died when their car swerved and struck a steel pole.

Beadle died two hours earlier when a car in which he and his wife were riding struck a pole. Beadle was thrown from the vehicle which rolled over on top of him. His wife escaped without serious injury.

'59 Civic Plans Outlined Jan. 5

589 CRASHES IN SAFE DRIVING WEEK

There were 589 traffic accidents in B.C. during Safe Driving Week, Dec. 1 to 7.

Injured totalled 143, the dead eight.

The motor vehicle branch notes a trend to less accidents, but a higher ratio of deaths.

"The trend has been evident all year and seems to have its root in too much speed—and too much drinking and driving," an official said.

The Christmas-New Year's holiday last year claimed 15 lives in the province.

Inaugural meeting of the 1959 city council will be held at 2 p.m. Jan. 5 when Mayor Percy Scurrah outlines his program for next year.

Earlier the same day Mr. Justice A. D. Macfarlane will administer the oaths of office in Supreme Court chambers to four aldermen and two Victoria school trustees re-elected this month to two-year terms: Aldermen Austin Curtis, Arthur Dowell, Hugh Ramsay and Elmer McEwen; trustees Mrs. E. M. Maunsell and Walter Thomson.

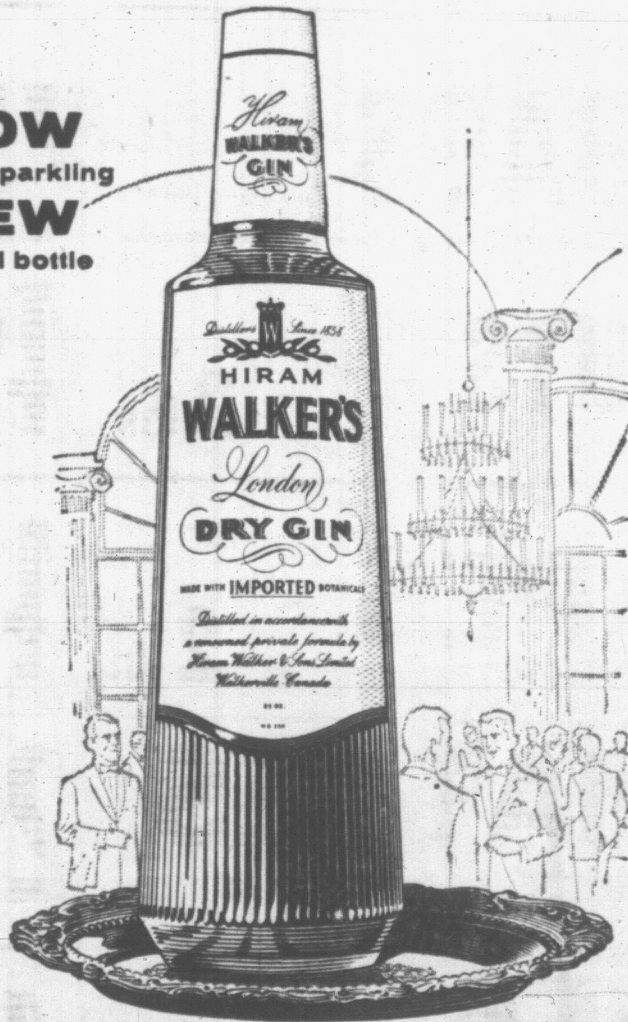

After the 10.30 a.m. swearing-in ceremony, all members of the new council, unchanged from this year's roll, will pose before a camera for the official picture of the 1959 city fathers.

Education Probe Due on V.I. Soon

B.C.'s three-man Royal Commission on Education will hold two sets of hearings in Vancouver during January and February, Commission chairman Dean S. N. F. Chant has announced.

Hearings will be held on Jan. 19, 20 and 21 and on Feb. 16 at the Vancouver School Board offices, 1595 West Tenth. Two sessions will be held each day beginning at 9 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Vancouver Island centres will be visited by the Commission between the Vancouver hearings. Dates and locations of the Island hearings will be announced soon, Dean Chant added.

IN ADVANCE

Organizations or individuals who wish to submit briefs to the commission should forward them to Dean Chant at least two weeks in advance of the hearings. Five copies of briefs should be submitted and information concerning the form briefs should take can be obtained from Dean Chant.

The Vancouver hearings will be the eighth group conducted by the commission since it was established in January, 1958, to investigate all educational matters up to the university level with the exception of finance.

The Commission hopes to wind up its hearings in April of 1959. Topics to be discussed at the hearings include curriculum and courses of study, reports to parents, utilization of school facilities and text books.

The hearings are open to the public.

Quick Approval Due For Garibaldi Plan

A plan for development of a section of Garibaldi Park by a private firm was expected to be approved by the B.C. cabinet later today.

A six-mile aerial tramway to a luxurious lodge and sports centre is planned by Garibaldi Development Company Ltd., it has been announced by company president A. F. Bauer.

B.C. Recreation and Conservation Minister E. C. Westwood expressed delight with the scheme.

"It is the first step in a more complete opening of the area," he said.

The park, one of the most beautiful in B.C., still lacks access roads. It is located about 37 miles northeast of Vancouver.

ISLAND LOGGER DENIED REINSTATEMENT IN IWA

VANCOUVER (CP) — A move to have Vancouver Island logger O. Macdonald returned as a first-class member of the International Woodworkers Union was rejected Saturday at the convention of Local 1-71.

The resolution asking Mr. Macdonald's reinstatement was submitted by W. F. Gibson.

Mr. Macdonald was described as an active participant in the 1948 revolution when the Labor-Progressive party tried to disorganize the IWA.

IRON CURTAIN NEVER PARTED

Mother Loses Cancer Battle

NANAIMO (CP)—Mrs. Marie Magdalena Baltz, 56, clinging to life in the hope that a daughter would be permitted to leave Bulgaria to see her before she died, has lost her battle to cancer.

She died Sunday.

The Bulgarian government refused to let her leave the Iron Curtain country despite efforts by John Taylor, Progressive Conservative member of Parliament for Vancouver Burrard.

A few days ago, it was learned that the daughter was unable to leave her home in Sofia.

Mrs. Baltz was separated from her daughter, Mrs. Dimitry Vlasarev, in war-torn Europe 16 years ago.

She appealed for an exit visa for her daughter when she learned that she had incurable cancer.

The Bulgarian government turned down the plea.

History Group Honors Duncan Couple

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wellburn of Duncan, who have done much to preserve historical records and articles of B.C., were honored by the Victoria section of the British Columbia Historical Society Saturday.

They were awarded honorary life memberships at the association's annual meeting and Christmas dinner at Holyrood House.

Elected to the 1959 council were: Miss Kathleen Agnew, Mrs. H. I. Mallek, Mrs. W. T. Bethell, R. A. Wootton, QC, James K. Nesbitt, Thomas Hyslop, Miss Flora Hamilton Burns, Mrs. Gladys Welsh, Miss Nelle K. Wyles, Miss Inez Mitchell, B. C. Bracewell, Dr. John F. Walker, Miss Olga Rossi, Dr. Robert M. TCA LOOTED OF $18,000

VANCOUVER (CP) — Safe-crackers looted $18,000 in cash and cheques from the downtown ticket office of Trans-Canada Air Lines here Sunday. A TCA spokesman said "a considerable amount" of the haul is non-negotiable. It included Friday and Saturday night receipts. The thieves broke through a two-foot-thick cement and brick wall from the washroom of an adjoining garage into a rear office of the TCA building.

LOGGERS WANT OVER-ALL BALLOT

Strike Vote 'Unfair'

VANCOUVER (CP) — British Columbia's 5,000 coast loggers have called for an end of the government-supervised strike vote.

Fred Fieber, secretary-treasurer of the International

Mine Kills 2 Men

NICOSIA, Cyprus (Reuters) — Two British airmen were killed Saturday and a third wounded when a mine exploded under an air force tank truck at Galounepetra.

Woodworkers of America, Local 1-71, said it has given rise to "the most unfair situation one can visualize."

The loggers, in convention here Saturday, approved a resolution calling for deletion of the supervised strike vote section from the Labor Relations Act.

Mr. Fieber said the loggers bargained on an industry-wide basis. They signed master contracts covering 200 operations and in union strike votes they balloted as a whole.

"Why should they vote as individual units in a government ballot?" he asked.

It was a most unjust law, he said, aimed at shackling the union.

An ultraviolet-sensitive tube has been developed which will sense the presence of smoke, fire or combustible vapor and relay the information to an alarm system.

SIX TOTS DIE IN FIRE

KAUKAUNA, Wis. (AP) — Six panic-stricken children, five of whom crowded into the first-floor bathroom of their flaming home instead of escaping through a door only a few feet away, died early Sunday while their parents were at church.

The charred body of the sixth child was found at the foot of a stairway down which the children had fled.

The victims were children of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Weynberg.

The Comet, with a full passenger load of 52, flew the 3,370 miles non-stop from Montreal in six hours 29 minutes.

The Comet, which flew out from London Friday on the first westbound service, made the eastbound trans-Atlantic crossing at an average speed of 515 miles an hour. The previous best time for a commercial airliner on the Montreal-London run was seven hours 27 minutes, set by a BOAC Bristol Britannia on Dec. 9.

Hangmen Snap Pro Grid Trap

Defensive Unit Chokes Browns; Giants Collect Conference Title

NEW YORK (CP) — Notre Dame had its Four Horsemen, Fordham its Seven Blocks of Granite. And now he have the 11 Hangmen of the New York football Giants.

CHUCK CONERLY

They form the defensive unit of the Giants, which tightened the noose around the neck of Jimmy Brown Sunday and sprung the trap on coach Paul Brown's Cleveland Browns.

Because of their inspired defensive play and the opportunistic offense of Chuck Conerly, Frank Gifford and Alex Webster, the Giants have won the eastern conference title of the National Football League.

The 10-0 shutout of Cleveland engineered by Conerly's first touchdown of the season — on a lateral from a double reverse — and Pat Summerall's 13th field goal, sent the Giants into the championship game next Sunday against Baltimore Colts.

The title game also will be played at Yankee Stadium and will be carried on television with New York and a 75-mile area blacked out.

Once again it was the grudging defense of the 11 Hangmen that thrilled the icy crowd of 61,274 at Sunday's playoff struggle.

TREMENDOUS DEFENSE

The Giants' four-man defensive line was tremendous. Andy Robustelli and Jim Katcavage at the ends and Rosey Grier and Dick (Little Mo) Modzelewski at the tackles simply wrecked the Cleveland offense. With Sam Huff backing up the middle, taking dead aim at the great Jimmy Brown, and Cliff Livingston and Harlandis Svare adding their brawn as linebackers, Cleveland made only 24 yards rushing.

Jimmy Brown, who set a league record with 1,527 yards in regular season play, was held to eight yards in seven carries.

The alert, deep defense of Lindown Crow (he intercepted two), Carl Karilivacz, Jim Patton and Em Tunnell turned in an excellent job when Cleveland's badly rushed passers took to the air. Milt Plum, injured in the first half, and Jim Ninowski completed 10 of 27.

TRICKY TOUCHDOWN — The only touchdown was a tricky thing on a frozen field, an 18-yard play late in the first period.

Conerly handed off to Webster coming around from right halfback. Webster gave it to Gifford, reversing from his left halfback spot. Gifford cut through the right side of the line to the 10, then tossed a basketball-type lateral that carried about 15 or 20 yards to Conerly, who went all the way.

The action became bitter at times. In one flare-up Mel Triplett, the Giants' fullback, was tossed out of the game for throwing a punch or two after an altercation with Don Colo and Don Paul. Phil King, the rookie from Vanderbilt, filled in admirably.

Conerly, who scored last, said the former Mississippi star with a grin. "We never used the play before, it was something new we put in this week."

"The lateral on the end was optional. I'm out there and he, Gifford, knows I'm there. Mel Triplett, the Giants' fullback, explained the events leading to his ejection by the officials after a fight in the second quarter."

BROWN SPEAKS — "No. 86, Paul Wiggin, kicked me and Don Colo grabbed the bar on my mask. That's when we started to go at it. It was just one of those things."

Coach Paul Brown of Cleveland had this to say: "They shut us out. What else can you say. They all had a head of steam up."

TOUGH DAY FOR BROWNS

Mighty defensive work by New York Giants throttled Cleveland Browns in playoff for National Football League's Eastern Conference title at New York Sunday. Typical scene is this play as Cleveland's Jim Brown is deluged by tacklers on punt return. Giants are Ed Hughes (48), Al Barry (68), M. L. Brackett (71), and Bob Mischak (62). Brown's Ed Modzelewski (36) is at right. Cleveland gained only 24 yards on ground.

Irish Replace Terry Brennan

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Joe Kuharich, coach of the professional Washington Redskins, has been named to replace Terry Brennan as head coach of the Notre Dame football team, athletic director Edward Krause announced today.

Kuharich played guard for the Irish in 1935-37 and was freshman coach at Notre Dame in 1938. He has agreed to a four-year contract.

The announcement ended speculation over who would succeed Terry Brennan, Notre Dame coach at 25, coach of the year at 27 and out of a job today at 30.

Notre Dame announced Brennan's firing Sunday night

NO INDICATION — Brennan first received his pink slip in a just-before-Christmas meeting of the university's faculty board in control of athletics. He said the board called him in "a couple of days ago" and told him he was through.

"I had no indication this was going to happen," Brennan said. "All they said was they were going to change the coaches. They didn't say they weren't satisfied and there wasn't any discussion."

Brennan, who took over the Notre Dame football helm when Frank Leahy retired in 1954, had been working on a year-to-year basis since 1957. In five seasons with the Irish, his alma mater, he won 32 and lost 18.

Notre Dame president Rev. Theodore M. Hesburgh, said he accepted the board's decision to free Brennan "with great reluctance."

Brennan's only official answer was a 90-word statement saying it was "an honor" to have coached the Irish and expressing "appreciation" to "alumni and friends for their help."

"If they want to change things, that's their right," he said.

Army Now Ready For Puck Upset?

Army's ice warriors, with the taste of their first victory still lingering sweetly, appear to be ready to score the first big upset of the Commercial Hockey League season.

Army faces its service rival, Navy, when the play-off four-team circuit stages its next doubleheader Tuesday night at Memorial Arena, starting at 7:30.

Army won its first game Saturday night, tripping Shell Aces, 6-1, while the sailors ran their winning streak to six games by trouncing Vics 9-1, before 1,200 fans.

IRISH ON BEAM

The good turnout, partly attracted by a lacrosse-on-ice contest, saw Shamrocks defeat Foul Bay Togmen 5-3 in the 20-minute exhibition.

Art Green, with two, Ed Kowalyk, Bert Bortola and Ron Marshall scored for the Rocks while Jack Milburn, Mel Davidson and Gary Anderson handled Foul Bay scoring.

Johnny Reddin, Neil Standley, John Bond and Ron Gill each pumped home two goals as the Sailors rang up the largest score of the season. Bob Ashworth and Pete McNeal each connected twice to spark Army's first win.

Canucks Flub Bid To Grab Top Spot

Totems Thump Vancouver, 5-1, Royals Beaten

By The Canadian Press

Vancouver Canucks were defeated for the first time in eight starts Sunday night, thumped solidly by Seattle Totems.

Canucks, who were a point behind Totems in the Western Hockey League's Coast Division standings Saturday night, dropped back another two with the 5-1 defeat.

For a while it appeared the Canadian team would be shut out. Totems went ahead 1-0 after the first, 2-0 after two and scored another two goals before Vancouver's Dan Belisle scored the lone goal for the visitors.

FONTENEY AND FIELDER — Val Fonteney and Guyle Fielder scored a goal and an assist each to lead the Seattle scoring while the other goals went to Jim Powers, Bill MacFarland and Don Chiupka.

Saturday night Saskatoon Quakers improved their grip on third place in the Prairie Division while Spokane Flyers and New Westminster Royals suffered defeats to remain in the coast division cellar.

Quakers, playing their best home game of the season, blanked leading Edmonton 3-0. The win gave Saskatoon a three-point margin over Winnipeg Warriors, in last place on the Prairies.

REMAIN IN TIE

Calgary Stampeders, trailing Edmonton by seven points, defeated Royals 6-2 in Calgary while Vancouver beat Spokane 5-2, leaving Royals and Spokane tied with 22 points each.

Les Lilley, Bob Kabel and Jackie McLeod scored for Saskatoon. It was Quaker goalie Lucien Dechene's first shutout of the season.

Because of injuries, Edmonton dressed only 13 players, one short of the limit.

Stampeders scored three goals in the third period in their game against Royals. Billy Hay scored two goals, 70 seconds apart midway through the final period to give Calgary a 5-2 lead. Wayne Hicks added the sixth near the end of the game.

Lou Jankowski, Eddie Dorohy and Dusty Blair scored other Calgary goals while Max McNab and Art Jones handled the scoring for New Westminster.

Mel Pearson, with two goals, Alex Kuzma, Gary Blaine and Ron Hutchinson scored for Canucks in Spokane while Al Johnson and Max Bell tallied for Flyers.

Peewee Clubs Stick to Form

The big three in the Greater Victoria Minor Hockey Association's peewee division came through as expected Saturday.

The leading Royals ran their unbeaten streak to six games by edging Flyers 2-1; second-place Maroons blanked Bombers 5-0, and third-place Senators clipped Capitals 3-1.

Phil to Travel If Price Right

VANCOUVER (CP) — Coleman Hall, general manager of the Western Hockey League Vancouver Canucks, said Sunday a deal has been completed to send Phil Maloney, Canuck forward, to Chicago Black Hawks, of the National Hockey League.

Hall said: "Our conditions have been met. Maloney will go if he wants to—but only then."

Maloney said today: "Okay. This thing has been pending for months. I guess it had to happen."

"If the price is right, I'll go. And if I know I'll be back with Vancouver if I don't make Chicago, I'll go. But I'm not going to be shipped down to Buffalo."

"I'll quit hockey first. And I love hockey."

The entire business was a carom shot involving Vancouver, New York Rangers and Chicago. Hall dealt directly with Muzz Patrick, general manager of the Rangers.

From Patrick came these concessions: "$7,500; centre Ray Cyr's contract (Cyr has been playing for Vancouver courtesy of New York); another forward, sometime for the Canucks; a promise, legal and binding, that Maloney will return to Vancouver if he fails to stick with Chicago."

"In the event Maloney comes back to us," said Hall, "we'll return the $7,500 with pleasure. But not Cyr's contract. That's ours for giving Chicago a chance at Maloney."

ROSBURG WINS TROPHY

Palmer Collects Most Golf Gold

DUNEDIN, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, Dow Finsterwald and Bob Rosburg captured top Professional Golfers' Association honors in 1958.

Final official figures released by the PGA, show Palmer, masters' champion from La-Trobe, Pa., the leading money winner with $42,607. Bill Casper, Jr., of Chula Vista, Calif., was second with $41,323.

Behind them in the money derby were Ken Venturi, of San Francisco, $36,267, and Finster-wald, of Tewquesta, Fla., $35,393.

Finsterwald, the PGA's professional golfer of the year, won two statistical races. He led the top ten tournament play-off point standings with 1,130, and in Ryder Cup points with 680 19-40.

Rosburg, of Palo Alto, Calif., won the Vardon Trophy in his first year as a PGA member. He averaged 70.11 strokes a round for the 61 rounds he played.

BOXING'S BROWN PANTHER DIES

Wills Was Paid for Not Fighting Dempsey

NEW YORK (AP) — Harry Wills, the old brown panther of the twenties who once received $50,000 for not fighting Jack Dempsey for the heavy-weight championship died Sunday night. He was 66.

Wills was admitted to Jewish Memorial Hospital Dec. 8 for a series of exploratory tests. Only last Friday an official of the hospital said he was not in critical condition.

The primary cause of his death was diabetes.

Wills fought more than 100 times in a 21-year career that started in 1911 in his home town, New Orleans.

But he never did get to fight Dempsey for the title. Once contracts were signed but Dempsey's lawyers forfeited his purse and Wills collected the $50,000.

Wills said later the Dempsey fight never came off because of the racial issue at the time.

"It wasn't Jack's fault," he commented.

Wills retired from the ring in 1932 and in recent years had been in the real estate business in Harlem.

Twenty-two of his fights were with Sam Langford, another of the great heavy-weights of the generation. He had a wide edge over Langford, although several of the bouts were listed as no decision.

His biggest payday came Sept. 1924, when he and Luis Angel Firpo fought to no decision in Jersey City. He received $150,000 for that one. Most ringsiders thought he gave Firpo a real going over.

Wills attracted almost as much attention with his annual one-month fasts as with his ring activities.

For almost 50 years, he avoided all solid food for one month a year "to burn off impurities," as he put it. During his fasts, he drank only water, fruit juice and milk.

He walked 12 miles a day and slept only four or five hours a night. He claimed the hunger pangs stopped after the third day and by that time he already had dropped nine pounds. From then until the end of the fast, he lost two pounds a day.

Although the record books credited him with only a little more than 100 bouts, he often chuckled that he actually was paid for 749 fights "and I only forgot to duck twice."

Wills invested his money wisely and among his real estate holdings was a 32-family apartment house in the Bronx, N.Y.

He said he was a great friend of Dempsey's when he was trying to fight him for the title, and that they remained friends through the years.

"It wasn't Jack's fault that we didn't fight," he said. "Why, he was the greatest. He would have given all his money away if someone didn't watch him. Many a time he gave me a lift."

"Once I met him in Cheyenne, Wyo., and all I had was holes in my pockets. Jack asked me how things were going and if I needed any money. I told him if you could buy New York for a nickel, I couldn't buy a lot. He gave me $100 and told me to pay him sometime when I had it or just forget it."

'ONLY FORGOT TO DUCK TWICE'

CHRISTMAS DAY SWIM ENTRY DEADLINE TODAY

Five swimmers have already signified their intentions of participating in the 40th annual Christmas Day swim in Victoria's inner harbor, but the field is expected to increase by at least three when final entries are received today.

Deadline for entry is 8 tonight.

The 50-yard handicap race, sponsored by the Victoria Amateur Swimming Club, is open to anyone registered with an organized swimming club.

The gun starting Thursday's splash goes off at 11 a.m.

SCOTS PAD LEAD

Kickers Eye New Target

It's one-down and one to go as Victoria Kickers strive for a "double" in their second season in the Victoria and District Football League.

The talent-laden Kickers, with the Jackson Cup tucked safely under their arms, now can aim their boots at one of the four playoff spots in the nine-team soccer circuit.

Top four teams in the standings after the 16-game schedule will play off for the league championship early in the spring.

And while Canadian Scottish appear to have the inside track on the league's top rung, the scramble for three other playoff berths is developing into a real fight. Only two points separate the next six teams.

The Scots padded their cushion to three points Sunday, edging Heaney's 3-2 in a thriller at Topaz Avenue Park. The loss dropped the cartage crew into a tie for third with Brodie's Bakery and Gorge Hotel.

Greely's Pair Paced Scots' Side

Two goals by Frank Greely and one by Neil Standley enabled the Scots to turn back Heaney's Nelson Crisp counted both goals for Heaney's.

Half-time score was 1-1.

At Beacon Hill Park, Gorge was never behind after Cliff Newman and Harold Holroyd scored. Morris Bunyan cut the deficit to 2-1 before the half, but the Hotelmen added insurance with second-half tallies by Bobby Mars and Chummy Crabbe.

Ken Hibbert and Henry Vanderhorst each scored twice to spark Brodie's at Heywood Avenue. Leroy Bond accounted for the Bakers' other goal.

Hall Prepared to Bid If Lions Go on Block

VANCOUVER (CP) — General Manager Coley Hall of the Western Hockey League's Vancouver Canucks said Saturday he heads a six-man syndicate which will put in a competitive bid if the British Columbia Lions professional football franchise is offered for sale.

His statement came two days after Nat Bailey, president of Vancouver Mounties of the Pacific Coast Baseball League, came forward as the "front man" of a local syndicate which hopes to purchase the publicly-owned team and convert it to private ownership.

"I have been approached by my associates several times in the past with regard to buying the Lions," Hall said. "But the team was never offered for sale and it never has been my intention to interfere."

The football club was

Did Canadiens Say Winning Is Boring?

Two Victories Stretch Lead To 10 Points

By The Canadian Press

There's a growing feeling the National Hockey League should be divided into two sections—Montreal Canadiens in one and everybody else in the other.

That way the other five NHL clubs could battle each other for a chance to meet Montreal in the Stanley Cup finals and Canadiens would be spared the boring chore of proving their obvious superiority.

They did it twice on the weekend. Saturday they whipped the Chicago Black Hawks 4-1 in Montreal, and Sunday they drubbed Boston Bruins 5-0 in Boston.

The two wins put Canadiens 10 points ahead of Detroit Red Wings—who lead the "B" section of the league.

Red Wings lost their only weekend game 4-2 to Chicago—a game that ended with Wings' Gordie Howe putting the puck in his own net.

STAY IN CELLAR

Toronto Maple Leafs failed in their attempt to climb out of the cellar—tying Boston 2-2 Saturday, but succumbing 5-1 to New York Rangers, Sunday. Rangers now are tied with Boston for third.

Montreal is unbeaten over 11 games and Sunday night just about killed hopes that the close-checking Bruins might continue to provide the all-conquering Habs with their only stiff opposition.

Marcel Bonin started things off and Dickie Moore and Bernie Geoffrion raised it to 3-0 by the end of the first. Jean Beliveau and Ralph Backstrom rounded out Bruins' humiliation in the second.

TWO FOR ROCKET

Bruins had 33 shots at Jacques Plante but the wondering wonder was equal to everything. It was his fifth shutout and gives him a big lead towards his fourth consecutive Vezina Trophy for the league's least-scored-upon netminder.

Saturday it was the same old story of Canadiens' overwhelming power. Maurice Richard got two goals, both of them in the second period, and assisted on an earlier one scored by Moore. Andre Pronovost scored the first Montreal goal of the night.

Ron Murphy got Hawks' lone counter.

In Chicago Sunday, rookie centre Ken Wharram had his biggest night this season with a goal—Chicago's first—and two assists. He gave Hawks a 1-0 first-period lead but Detroit's rookie Charlie Burns nullified that with a second period goal.

GORDIE GOOFS

In the third Chicago's Eric Nesterenko scored on Wharram's relay to put Hawks up again, but Warren Godfrey put Detroit back in the game. Then Big Elmer (Moose) Vasko gave Chicago back the lead at 18:38, and with a minute left coach Sid Abel pulled goalie Terry Sawchuk from the Red Wings' nets.

That set the stage for Howe's goof. The classic rightwinger attempted to pass across the vacant Detroit net, but the puck inexplicably rolled away and trickled into the corner. The goal was credited to Chicago's Earl Balfour.

Jazzy Backfielder

TORONTO (CP) — Dave Mann, star import backfielder with Toronto Argonauts of the Big Four Football League, has formed a musical group called the Jazz Fashioners which provided the music at a benefit dance last night. The proceeds went to Ray Smith, Central Technical School quarterback now in sanitarium with tuberculosis.

Curling Playoffs Get Early Start

Rinks skipped by Gar Taylor and Tony Gutoski send the Vancouver Island zone curling playdowns away to an early start tonight.

The Victoria Curling Club quartets, which qualified for the zone playdowns Saturday night, play their "home" game of the round-robin series to night, starting at 8 p.m.

The Consuls round-robin, which also involves two rinks each from Duncan, Alberni Valley and Nanaimo Clubs, will be completed in Victoria January 17-18. All rinks play one game on home ice before the first three draws on January 17.

Jinx Cracked By Waggoner's 1,176 Effort

A whopping total was required, but Reg Waggoner finally dented the jinx in the Esquimalt Bowladrome's "Parade of Champions" Sunday.

Waggoner became the first two-time winner of the five-pin bowling event in the ninth week, putting together games of 338, 316, 235 and 287 for an impressive 1,176 total, the highest of the season.

Jack Goldie finished second with 1,115, including a high single of 350, followed by Bert Copp, 1,014 and defending champ Ron Cuth, 923, 973. John Middlemass was fifth at 917.

VOGLER WINS

In the championship series at Capital City on Saturday, Wes Vogler was the weekly winner by rolling an 819 triple compared to Don Corbett's 757. Waggoner was third at 736 and defending champ Dick Hall trailed with 634.

Waggoner was top man in the eliminations with 869, followed by Vogler, 815, and Corbett, 814.

Lions Outroared

LONDON (Reuters)—Wembley Lions, the British Hockey League team, were beaten 6-1 by a young Moscow representative team in Moscow Sunday, Tass News Agency reports.

DENVER (CP)—Denver University romped to an 11-1 triumph over Edmonton Oil Kings Saturday night in a loosely played exhibition hockey game that turned into a series of brawls.

Redmen Take Holiday Bowl

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Northeastern Oklahoma State defeated Arizona State 19-13 in the Holiday Bowl football game Saturday.

The Redmen drove 94 yards for a touchdown the first time they got the ball. They cashed in on shorter drives in the third and fourth quarters to win the National Small College championship before 8,628 fans and a national television audience.

Holiday Meeting For Winter Club

Members of the Canadian Pacific lawn bowlers' Winter Club, now in the midst of their fourth season, will hold their annual Christmas meeting Wednesday at 2 p.m.

Club officials invite visitors to participate in activities for senior citizens each weekday afternoon at the club's headquarters in the Crystal Garden.

Wednesday's meeting will feature a bridge competition, but carpet bowling, cribbage, darts, billiards, chess and checkers tournaments are currently under way.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy. Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a $5.00 volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia (Canadian edition) and at the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy," Victoria Daily Times.

Andy sends a complete, 15-volume set of Compton's Pictured Encyclopedia to Robert Nelson, aged 12, of Fairfield, Conn., for his question:

What Exactly Are Peanuts?

Whoever heard of a plant setting its own seeds in the ground? Well, the peanut plant does this—or at least this is what it tries to do. Some people call it the groundnut or the earthnut or the ground pea. In addition to all these aliases it is also known as the goober. Whatever we call it, the peanut is one of the most valuable of all plants. The peanuts, with their shells, are the fruit of the peanut plant. The nutty seeds inside the shell are the seeds.

The peanut plant is an annual herb. It can withstand long periods of drought, which makes it a valuable crop in the semi-arid countries. The plant is a member of the pea family. Its dainty foliage resembles that of the garden or sweet pea. Its blossoms are miniature sweet peas.

After the flowers fade, their stems bend down and push into the soil. There the fruit begins to form, first as soft pods containing little pea-like seeds. The pods grow and finally ripen into the pale, crisp shells we call peanuts. In the true sense of the word peanuts are not nuts at all. If you eat them fresh out of the ground, peanuts taste very much like peas. They get their nutty flavor only after they have been roasted. There are about 800 million pounds of peanuts produced in the United States each year.

Most of this huge crop is eaten by human beings. And peanuts are both good to taste and healthy to eat. Per pound, they contain more protein than sirloin steak, more carbohydrate than potatoes and a third as much fat as butter. It is hard to find a food with more nourishment than the peanut. We can eat them whole, roasted and salted, or in peanut butter. They can be ground up to make a flour meal which adds flavor and food value to muffins, soups and griddle cakes.

Much oil is derived from the world's huge peanut crop. It is a rich oil and very much like olive oil. It is used as a cooking or salad oil and it is also used to make soap and oleomargarine.

The vine of the peanut plant is also useful. As a cattle fodder it is said to be better than the best clover. Even the shells and papery skin of the peanuts are ground up for cattle fodder.

Surely this should be all we could expect from one crop. But the peanut plant has still more to give. Being a member of the pea family it attracts certain bacteria to its roots. These bacteria form little bumps and nodules which cluster to the roots and rootlets underground. And they are very valuable bacteria, for they form nitrates and add them to the soil.

Most plants take nitrates from the soil and, after the crop has been harvested, these chemicals have to be added as fertilizers. With the peanut and other members of the pea family, this process is reversed. Not only does the peanut provide valuable food for us and our cattle, but also it enriches the soil in which it grows.

Origin of Christmas Tree

Andy sends a Hammond's Ambassador World Atlas to Jean Misi, age 13, of Cedar City, Utah, for her question:

What is the origin of the Christmas Tree?

Maybe you heard that the Christmas Tree is older than Christmas. Some say it dates back to pagan days when people took evergreens indoors to celebrate the winter solstice. But historic facts do not support this idea. The evidence shows that the idea began in Northern Europe, perhaps in Germany, maybe in the 8th Century. The earliest written proof of a Christmas Tree states that it was a custom in Germany, in the year 1605. There are, however, many beautiful stories about its origin which cannot be proved.

Saint Boniface may have originated the Christmas Tree in the 8th Century. An old story says that he was trying to stop the pagan custom of human sacrifice in the forests. He suggested that the people take fir trees into their homes as a sign of their new worship, that they replace their cruel customs with love and laughter. Another story claims that Martin Luther lit the candles on the first Christmas Tree.

This beautiful custom is not so old and not so world-wide as most people think. It is a great favorite in Canada and the United States, and Northern Europe. But Spain, Italy and the Latin countries of South America still prefer to celebrate the birth of the Baby Jesus with flowers instead of an evergreen tree.

Wolf Makes Pals With Ailing Gull

WHITEHORSE, Y.T. (CP)—A seagull who made friends with a wolf during a Yukon visit has been given a new lease on life.

In early November the gull was dragged home by an eight-month-old wolf, pet of Danny Nolan, owner of a lodge on the Alaska Highway.

Nolan said the gull was shaken but recovered and became the wolf's playmate.

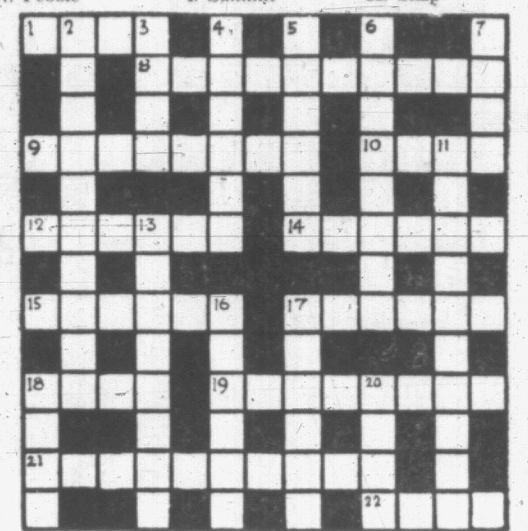

Pat Brame, a Whitehorse trucker, brought the sea bird here. Evidently the bird missed the water, although it flew about by day making friends, and bunked at night in the Brame basement.

Mr. Brame finally sent the bird by train to Skagway, an Alaska port, where it waddled into the water and flew away.

'Homesick Charlie' Back in His Corral

LONDON (AP)—Charlie the homesick horse was home and safely corralled Sunday night, trapped by a farmer's cunning and a herd of bullocks.

The ruse foiled Charlie's attempt to hoof it back 300 miles westward to his native Wales.

"You don't know how relieved I am to have him back," said his owner, Mrs. Anne Tomkin. "Charlie is six now and really old enough to know better."

A farmer at Baldock, in Hertfordshire, sighted Charlie. He thought nothing of it until he saw the missing Charlie stories in the newspapers.

He called the village policeman. They figured Charlie must be hungry, so they drove the bullocks down to the cattle yard to eat.

"Charlie, being sweet natured and very hungry, followed and was duly rounded up," Mrs. Tomkin said. "They shipped him home Saturday."

STARTS TONIGHT "GOD IS MY PARTNER"
One of the sweetest family pictures one could wish to see. Good, wholesome, clean entertainment for young and old alike. It carries a message that is needed today. By no means preaching, and with plenty of humor. It is a simple film, but its honesty and simplicity make it a better movie than many of today's greats. Starring lovable Walter Brennan—so appropriate too. Do see it, and bring along someone you know who would like an enjoyable evening out. You will be glad tomorrow that you saw this film today.

Ingrid Wed Again To Rich Swede

PARIS (AP)—Ingrid Bergman called the cops today so she could honeymoon in peace with her new husband, wealthy Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt.
The 43-year-old Swedish actress and her third spouse, who is 41, eluded press and public Sunday and were married in a quiet civil ceremony, in London's Caxton Hall registry office.
By the time the press arrived, the couple had flown to Paris and taken refuge in a little walled farm Schmidt owns 15 miles from Paris.
By dawn the farm was besieged by reporters and photographers, who began mounting the wall. Miss Bergman called police from the nearby village and they ordered the press off the wall.
In marrying again, Miss Bergman defied the Rome Court of Appeal which is considering a state prosecutor's contest of a lower Rome court's decree annulling her marriage to Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.

She had announced months ago she would wed Schmidt when she was free from Rossellini. At a hearing last Friday in home her lawyer was warned the remarriage before the appeal court's decision "would be highly detrimental to her case." Another hearing is scheduled Feb. 3.
The actress' London lawyer, Ambrose Appelbe, said the new marriage is legal in Sweden, Britain and France. Miss Bergman has said she and Schmidt will live in France.
Under Italian law, the annulment is not legally effective until the appeal is decided. The state prosecutor had said previously he would file bigamy charges if either Miss Bergman or Rossellini married before the case was settled.

Boy for Jane Name: 'Miklos'

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield gave birth to a baby boy Sunday. The baby, weighing nine pounds, 9¼ ounces, was named Miklos after his weight-lifter father, Mickey Hargitay. The hospital reported mother and son both doing nicely.
The blonde actress and Hargitay were married last Jan. 13 in a ceremony that caused a near-riot in nearby Palos Verdes.
The birth of the couple's first child Sunday, however, caused far less hoopla.
Mickey, who also works as an actor, quietly drove his wife to St. John's Hospital shortly before dawn.

REV. WALTER F. BARFOOT ... to stay active

Anglican Primate Retiring

TORONTO (CP) — Most Rev. Walter F. Barfoot, Ontario-born primate of the Anglican Church of Canada and the spiritual leader of 2,250,000 Canadians, will retire Dec. 31, the church announced today.

Archbishop Barfoot, 65-year-old native of Collingwood, Ont., who acceded to the church's highest post in 1951, plans to continue in the Anglican service as Archbishop of Rupert's Land, a diocese, and metropolitan of the ecclesiastical province of Rupert's Land, posts he received after he was elected to the primacy. The church province of Rupert's Land covers more than 3,600,000 square miles of Western Canada and the Northwest.

The primate will be succeeded in an acting capacity by Most Rev. Philip Carrington, Archbishop of Quebec and senior Anglican Metropolitan in Canada. Archbishop Carrington, 66, and a prolific author of books dealing with theology and Boy Scoutcraft, will serve until the general synod—the church "parliament"—meets to elect a successor Sept. 1, 1959, at St. Anne de Bellevue, Que.

ANNOUNCE CHANGE

Archbishop Carrington himself announced the change in leadership. An Anglican spokesman, questioned as to the reasons for it, said the primate felt that to continue in all his offices would tax his health. But the informant added, he wanted to make clear there had been no deterioration in Archbishop Barfoot's health nor had the latter been ill.

UIC Staff Makes Christmas Gift Of Its Day Off

Another 76 men registered as unemployed during the past week, while the total of women looking for work dropped by 26.

Totals today stood at 3,086 and 1,356 for a combined figure of 4,442, compared with 4,769 at this time a year ago.

Fifteen employees of the claims section of the National Employment Service in Victoria surrendered their day off Saturday to pay insurance benefits to 650 unemployed persons whose claim day would have fallen on Christmas Day. Officials said those persons who would normally be paid Jan. 1 will receive benefits instead Dec. 30 or 31.

RCMP VETERAN

'Rivets' Carnac Retires

OTTAWA (CP)—Retirement of Deputy RCMP Commissioner Charles Edward Rivett-Carnac, 57, after a colorful 35-year career with the force was announced today by Commissioner L. H. Nicholson.

Known to members of the force as "Rivets," Deputy Commissioner Rivett-Carnac played a major role in police investigations following the 1945 disclosure by former Soviet cipher clerk Igor Gouzenko of a Russian espionage ring in Canada. At that time Deputy Commissioner Rivett-Carnac was officer in charge of the force's intelligence branch in Ottawa, now known as the special branch.

Commissioner Nicholson said Deputy Commissioner Rivett-Carnac now is on leave pending retirement on pension Jan. 1.

TO OTTAWA IN 1956

Deputy Commissioner Rivett-Carnac joined the force in 1923 as a constable and saw many years of service in the Canadian north. He was appointed one of the force's three deputy commissioners in Ottawa in 1956 after serving from 1951 as assistant commissioner and officer in command of the RCMP division in British Columbia.

He took over command of the B.C. division six months after the B.C. Provincial Police force was absorbed by the RCMP. He had to cope with all the problems arising from integration of the two police forces.

HEAVY FIRE DAMAGE believed caused by a faulty furnace is examined by fireman Jim Aspinwall at 1116 Collinson early Sunday. A ground floor apartment in a converted dwelling was thoroughly gutted and there was extensive smoke and water damage to the other four apartments. One occupant, Mrs. Elizabeth Riley, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital where she is in good condition recovering from shock. — (Photo by William Boucher.)

MONTÉ ROBERTS

The tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has expressed the wish that daylight saving time be extended another month each autumn.

Bless their dollar-loving little hearts, they feel this will bring more tourists to B.C.

As I understand it (and my understanding of daylight saving time is very similar to my understanding of atomic energy), to achieve daylight saving time one advances the clock one hour.

If the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce feels that advancing the clock by one hour will bring more tourists, why stop there?

Why not advance the clock two hours? It is obvious this would be twice as attractive a proposition to tourists as advancing the clock by only ONE hour.

Tourists would flock to Victoria if we had fast-fast time, instead of just fast time.

And why restrict it to just one extra month in the autumn?

Why not have daylight saving time the year round? If there is any merit in the tourist group's idea, this would mean the joint would be jumping with tourists from January to December, and the tourist trade group wouldn't have anything to beef about.

I would like, however, to carry this idea to its logical conclusion. If two hours daylight saving time is better than one, wouldn't three be better than two?

And why stop there? Why not try for four? And if you have four, why not 24?

By advancing the clock 24 hours, you would not just be saving daylight, you would be saving a day. Preferably a rainy day.

Then, instead of putting something by for a rainy day, you would be putting a rainy day by for something.

Let us be constructive and aggressive about this, tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce. Send a wire to somebody and start saving 24 hours a day, 365 days a year.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Canadian Pacific Lawn Bowlers' winter club holds a Christmas Social Wednesday at 2 p.m. There will be bridge, carpet bowling, cribbage, darts, billiards, checkers and chess, and other games. The event takes place in the club rooms at Crystal Garden on Belleville Street, where visitors to the elderly persons recreation centre are welcome any afternoon.

Estimated value of mineral production in British Columbia this year is reduced 14 per cent from 1957, it was announced today by Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan. Values for 1958 are expected to reach $149,000,000 as compared to $172,264,617 last year.

ASK THE TIMES

Q How can I take pictures at night with my Bauer 88c movie camera, lens 1.9, 4 speeds, of the lighted Parliament Building, also of the lighted houses with colored 8mm. film, and what type? B.Q.

A. Film to use—Type A Kodachrome 8 mm.

Exposure—If the camera is "hand held" shoot at speed 16 frames per second with the lens set at 1.9 (wide open).

If camera is to be used on a tripod shoot at speed 8 frames per second, with lens still 1.9. This will be a better exposure but should not be used if there is any movement.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor, Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve controversies or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Belton-Topp Turner, Saanich, backed out of a driveway on Fisgard near the police station—and kept going right into a car driven by Det. William Andrews.

In city police court today, after pleading guilty to a charge of impaired driving, Turner was fined $250 and restricted to business driving only for one year.

An Indian crafts centre may be set up at Goldstream by the Indian Village Co-operative which asked for a lease on 28 acres held by Greater Victoria water board. The board, at its last meeting, renewed a lease on the property for the Victoria Fish and Game Association but reserved the right to lease any part of the property not used by the association to the co-operative which hopes to sell Indian sweaters on a non-profit basis.

The B.C. Drivers' Manual which everyone must study before being tested for a driving licence, has been revised and copies are now available at licence issuing centres. The new booklet is filled with diagrams and easy reference material and lists every question, with correct answers, which may be asked of a licence applicant.

Victoria Public Library will close early, at 5 p.m. Wednesday and re-open Saturday, for the Christmas holiday, librarian John Lort said today. The library also will close at 5 p.m. New Year's Eve and re-open Jan. 2.

City Hall will close at 5 p.m. on both Christmas and New Year's Eves, re-opening the following Mondays.

The Kiwanis Club of Victoria North will celebrate its eighth anniversary with a dinner meeting at the Monterey Restaurant Tuesday at 6.15 p.m.

Two films, "Grand Canyon" and "United Kingdom," will be shown.

Harold MacGregor, president, announces that the installation of officers and directors for 1959 will take place at the Empress Hotel Jan. 8 at 6.30 p.m.

Reginald Vernon Book, 603 Wilson, was sentenced in Saanich police court today to three months definite and one year indeterminate for attempting breaking and entering a flower shop Dec. 7.

Court was told police found Book at the rear of Cooper's Florists, 312 Gorge West, with a length of rope wrapped around his waist "in case he had to climb down a skylight," and a cloth-wrapped chisel and hammer.

Robert William Hutton, 1710 Fort, was sentenced in city police court today to one year in jail on a charge of uttering a forged document. "You've already compiled quite a record for a young man," Magistrate H. C. Hall commented.

IN JAYCEE HOME LIGHTING CONTEST

Third Win for Ex-Prairie Farmer

Thomas J. Johnston, 3380 Beach Drive, won the Junior Chamber Christmas lighting contest today for the third consecutive year.

A retired prairie farmer, Mr. Johnston won top place among completely decorated home entries and also took first prize in the depiction of the Christmas message category.

Judges toured the city Sunday night to view about 60 entries in the contest before announcing winners this morning.

His runners up were: Decorated house, P. Fern, 3285 Cadboro Bay Road, and Mrs. H. Cousins, 1985 Burnside West; depiction of Christmas message, L. B. Parkin, 1330 Mitchell and Rosalie Roberts Beauty Salon, 145 Moss.

Winners in the best decorated window or door category were: S. E. W. Robinson, 1039 Bank; J. Fisher, 1280 Hewlett Place, and Lansdowne Junior High School.

Topping the novice class was James Weir, 2549 Wootton Crescent. R. H. Abbott, 3200 Richmond, and Mrs. Ray Hunt, 5221 Whiteside, came second and third. Special mentions went to T. J. O'Neill, 2561 Bermuda Place; George Askey, 741 Lavender, and M. A. Kelly, 962 Lampson Place.

Electrical appliances were awarded the winners by the Jaycees. Two special awards from B.C. Electric Co. will be made at a later date.

The Jaycees will outline the best route for viewing decorated homes Tuesday.

WOMAN FELLED BY SHOCK

Damage Hits $6,000 In Apartment Blaze

A Sunday morning apartment house fire at 1116 Collinson caused an estimated $6,000 damage and sent a woman occupant to hospital with shock.

Two other Sunday fires kept firemen busy but caused little damage.

Firemen were called to a three-storey apartment — a converted house — at 7.45 a.m. to find the blaze had gained a hold throughout the ground-level floor containing a furnace room and suite which was not occupied at the time.

Flames had begun to burst through to the second storey at a cupboard, firemen said, and some difficulty was encountered in fighting the fire because of the number of small lower-floor rooms.

The fire was controlled in an hour, but equipment did not leave the scene for three hours. For the remainder of the day a fireman was left on guard.

TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Elizabeth Riley, one of the occupants routed out by the fire, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for observation and was reported to be in good condition today.

There were a total of five apartments in the building, most of which were heavily smoked or damaged by water. At 3.05 a.m. firemen were called to 1742 Pembroke, the home of W.J. Clement, where a faulty furnace was responsible for a small blaze which burned into sub-flooring. Damage was estimated at $50.

CADETS ACT

Furnace trouble was blamed a third time when firemen were called to RCSCC Rainbow, at the foot of Roberts, where cadets had the situation under control after trying to light the furnace at 10.45 a.m. Firemen said the boys were using paper boxes to light the furnace and when they caught fire and flared up the boys formed a bucket brigade to douse flames.

There was no damage.

1.4 Million Feet Of Lumber Loaded By U.K. Freighter

The Royal Mail Line passenger-freighter Loch Ryan began a lumber lift at Ogden Point today which will see 1,400,000 board feet loaded before she leaves Victoria.

The big shipment is consigned to U.K. ports.

Loch Ryan will be in port over Christmas and Boxing Day — holidays for the longshoremen — and will not leave until next weekend.

The British freighter will be joined at The Point over Christmas by two other lumber carriers, Brede and Michael G. Livanos.

DOWNHILL RUN NOW FOR THOSE LONGER DAYS

Winter arrived officially at 12.40 a.m. this morning in the middle of the year's longest night.

The sun rose at 8.025 a.m. after setting at 4.21 p.m. Sunday.

When it sets today Victoria will have rounded the turn with its shortest day—nine hours and 20 minutes of daylight—behind it. Tuesday's daylight period will be a minute longer.

The sun was approximately 91,400,000 miles away from the earth—furthest distance for the year—when it reached its winter solstice this morning for the official start of winter.

B.C. Fund to Aid Briggs Campaign

Establishment of a public "Power Enquiry Trust Fund," to assist H. Lee Briggs in his campaign to bring all facts before the Shrum Commission, was announced in Victoria today.

The movement, which began with a group of the deposed Power Commission manager's friends in Vancouver, has been set up to administer the fund, consisting of Air Marshall Sir Philip Livingston of Duncan; Dr. Gordon H. Grant, surgeon, Victoria; John Barclough, insurance executive, Victoria, and Colonel E. B. Westby, retired, of North Vancouver.

Monies contributed will be received by the chartered accountant firm of Chadwick, Beacom and Co. of New Westminster. Progressive reports on the balance of the fund will be made to newspapers, radio and TV stations, for public information.

If any balance exists after the Shrum Commission adjourns, monies in the fund will be turned over to the Canadian Red Cross.

A paragraph in the terms setting up the Power Enquiry Trust fund, released in Victoria today, reads:

"A trustee... is not personally committed to any stand or viewpoint whatsoever either for or against any of the matters which may or will come before the Shrum royal commission."

"In other words, we do not anticipate what the final judgment on the Briggs charges may be. What we are interested in is a full and free enquiry, for the assistance of the royal commission.

"We do not feel that Briggs, an unemployed executive, should be required to carry the entire burden for the province."

"Mr. Briggs' costs will undoubtedly run into many thousands of dollars and that is why we endorse the principle of a province-wide appeal to help him."

Cheques should be made payable to the "Power Enquiry Trust Fund" and forwarded to Chadwick, Beacom and Co. of New Westminster. Donations will be audited but not publicized.

Wine Producer S. B. Slinger Dies at 85

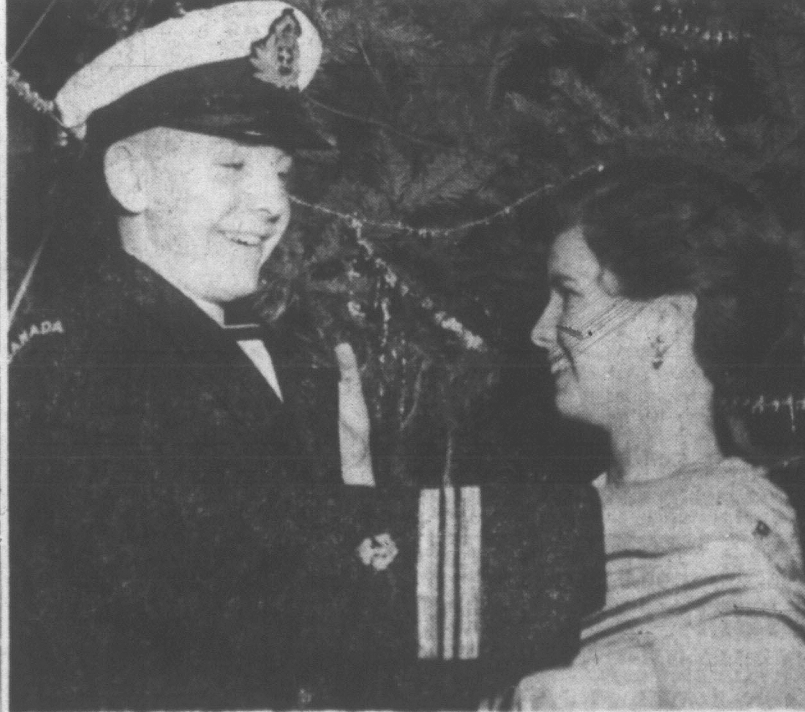

Stephen Bateman Slinger, 85, pioneer producer of Slinger's Victoria wine, died at his home at 1011 Pandora Street early today.

He came to B.C. from England in 1892, and founded a small wine-making concern which later became Victoria Wineries (B.C.) Ltd. and Growers Wine Co. Ltd., which still operate.

Mr. Slinger retired from the wine-making business in 1938. After the death of his wife, he lived quietly at his Victoria residence but had many friends.

He is survived by two nephews and a niece in England.

Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros. funeral parlor Wednesday at 2.30 p.m., followed by interment at Royal Oak Burial Park.

CAPTAIN FOR THE DAY was youngest member of RCSCC Rainbow Corps James Thomson, 14, at sea cadets' Christmas party Saturday night. Jim proudly shows friend Jacqueline Poulton the cap and jacket of Rainbow skipper Lieut.-Com. T. A.

SHOPPING GUIDE

Soft, Thick Towel Sets Wonderful Christmas Gift!

By PENNY SAVER

Puff, puff... yes, just like you, I'm last-minute shopping for the big day... but I'm enjoying it! Especially when I trip over such wonderful bargains as this!

It's a brightly packaged set of thick bath towels. They come in matching pastel shades to add elegance to any bathroom and they're priced at $2.98 a set!

PRINTED PATTERN

by Anne Adams

Two-Piece Charmer

Pert for school, pretty for parties! Little girls love the two-piece styling, swing skirt, gay contrast. Whip it up in crisp cotton—it's easy.

Printed pattern 4579: Children's sizes 2, 4, 6, 8, 10. Size 6 takes 2 1/4 yards 35-inch fabric; 3/4 yard contrast.

Printed directions on each pattern part. Easier, accurate. Send—forty cents (40c) in coins (stamps cannot be accepted) for this pattern. Please print plainly size, name, address, style number.

Send order to Anne Adams, care of Times Pattern Dept., 60 Front Street West, Toronto 1-A, Ont.

An extra-special sort of gift for that favorite lady on your list might be this elegant and feminine dressing table set. Each piece has a silky brocade-like finish. The brush, comb and powder jar are in a large padded case. A delightful present for "her," priced at $10.

I'd say that this was a buy on glass ware that any wise housewife would be sorry to miss for Yuletide entertaining! Crystal thin tumblers (14-ounce size) in muted gold, green, blue and red are priced at $4 for a set of eight.

Then I found some 10-ounce glasses at eight for $3.50 and the two-ounce size which are marvelous for cocktails at $2 a set.

Rather embarrassing for the man of the family, when he's carving the turkey for Christmas dinner at the table, to have it slip and slide from one end of the plate to the other! It happens though, but can be prevented if he uses this heavy fork to hold down the flighty bird! Fork is of heavy steel and looks so smart on any dining table. It's priced at $4.95.

The temperature goes up, but your party ice keeps its shape and lasts longer in this tall, smart ice cooler container selling at $5.95.

Hurry... there are only three more shopping days until Christmas! Don't laugh it off... you'll be able to count the hours soon! Phone me at EV 2-3131 and I'll tell you where I shopped today.

Donations—At meeting of the Women's Auxiliary No. 65, Victoria Typographical Union, 201, donations were made as follows: Milk Fund for starving children in Korea, $5; cancer dressing station, $5; 500 Fund, $10; cerebral palsy clinics, $10. It was also arranged to send a cheque to a family where the father has been ill for many months and unable to work. Following the meeting, held in the home of Mrs. L. Fawcus, refreshments were served and exchange of gifts enjoyed.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I wonder who ever thought up the idea of the office Christmas party? We can be sure of one thing. It wasn't a wife!

This is not written in bitterness. I never suffered because of them. My husband never remained for very long and I was even sometimes invited.

However, it really seems a barbaric idea to have a Christmas party at an office on Christmas Eve. This is traditionally a time for the family to be together. To be practical, this is a rushed time for almost everyone. There are usually last-minute errands to be done and often real help is needed at home.

Perhaps for the unattached men or women or those who are unhappy at home, this is a welcome diversion, but family men or women should not be expected to linger more than a short while—if at all! If a man's life at home is at all happy he will have things he wishes to do with his family on this very special and exciting day.

There is no doubt about it! The happiness of many a Christmas Eve has been ruined in many homes by the office social gathering. Too much to drink may make a man lose track of time and miss an engagement he had with his wife or children.

Some men may, without planning to, drink enough to make them less than their usual charming selves. Thus the fun of decorating the tree at home and other festivities of the season are somewhat spoiled for his family and for him, also.

Surveys have shown that fewer of these parties are held each year. Maybe everyone is getting tired of them or perhaps more people have realized how inappropriate they are. If there is going to be an office Christmas get together, why not have it a few days or a week earlier—not on that very special Eve which seems somehow to belong to families, or if there is no family, to those we love and are truly close to.

WEDDING IN NEW YEAR

The engagement is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blaus of 3680 Elliston Avenue, of their daughter, Lila Fay to Bertie Johan Johanson, son of Mr. Karl R. Johanson of Mercoal, Alta. The wedding is planned for Friday, Jan. 9 at 8 p.m. in Centennial United Church with Rev. Douglas B. Carr officiating. LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Thoughtful mother-in-law: My son never invites my husband and me for dinner because he says we don't need an invitation. How do I know how my daughter-in-law would feel if we barged in and said, "Here we are for dinner"? I always invite them in advance by calling my son's wife and feel that we shouldn't assume that we can come unannounced, nor would I even phone to ask if we could come. Who is right?

Louise Davis answers: You are right and without question! Your son should realize that you would undoubtedly be an unpopular and unwelcome mother-in-law should you take such liberties. I am sure that his wife would be equally annoyed if her own parents would do such a thing.

If she plans and prepares a dinner for two, how can she manage the stretch to four unless she is a super kitchen genius seven days a week and unless she has the disposition of a saint? Even a high salaried servant would be disgruntled at this repeated performance. Your son's wife isn't able to grab a magic wand and summon the fairy godmother for two more lamb chops and a double order of everything else at a moment's notice. You would do your son a good turn if you take him aside and explain the culinary facts of life to him. For the sake of harmony in his own home, he needs this briefing badly and no one should accuse you of being a meddling mother-in-law by doing it. I also hope you can get it across that he shouldn't take it upon himself to do the inviting without first getting the approval of his wife. There may be several good reasons why it would be inconvenient to have you to dinner next Wednesday night.

Frills and Flowers; Perfumed Salon for Dior Millinery Show

LONDON (CP) — A spring hat collection featuring nearly every seasonal flower in the book is the first of a series linking the house of Dior with the British hat industry.

The collection, designed by Dior's successor, Yves St. Laurent, was made by the House of Dolores and receives its first showing in a flower-bedecked, perfumed salon near Oxford Street.

The distributors describe the collection as influenced by the fountains of Paris and by the colors of the flowers and head-dresses of the statues of fairy sprites which surround them.

CLOCHE PROMINENT

It is gay and frothy, with the cloche shape predominating. A variety of straw and grosgrain fabrics is used with pastel shades of green, blue and coral to the fore. Where flowers are featured, they are used with abundance and sometimes it's difficult to see the hat under the horticulture.

One pink creation, looking as if the wearer had tumbled into a poppy field, is covered from corner to corner with the blooms. It is worn well down on the back of the head and over the ears.

Another eye-catcher is a cloche made entirely of lilies of the valley, with a fringe of blossom falling softly on to the forehead. Hiding amid a swath of black tulle is a small white straw cloche worn high above the ears and trimmed with black satin ribbon.

For cocktail wear, clusters of blooms in the form of head-ache bands are suggested. Two of the most dramatic are a single huge pink rose, worn atop the head with a stalk rising from the centre like an antenna, and a circle of black satin topped off with large black and yellow tulips.

A perfect way to use leftover turkey from your holiday meal are these hot-stuffed tomatoes with turkey salad.

Turkey Leftovers Make Tasteful Meals

How are you solving the problem of what to do with Christmas dinner leftovers this year? Do you have lots of ideas or could you use a few suggestions?

Top slices of turkey or ham you may have with bright spears of cooked broccoli and cover all with a rich cheese sauce. Then just bake for a few minutes to thoroughly heat all the ingredients. Another tasty entree is fresh tomato cups, filled with turkey salad, topped with grated cheese and baked for 15 minutes. You'll find the combination of flavors is delicious.

A snowy heap of cauliflower, cooked and topped with creamed turkey or chicken, provides another tempting way to use leftovers and, of course, there is always the turkey or chicken pie. Perhaps your holiday menu calls for a roast of beef, pork or lamb, and if that be the case then you just need to combine the leftover meat and gravy with carrots, celery, potatoes and onions for a wonderful entree. Top the mixture with biscuits, dumplings, pastry or you might enjoy omitting the potatoes from the meat dish and heaping mashed potatoes on the top at the last minute for just a quick browning.

Here's a recipe you will want to try this holiday season after you have served roast turkey to your family.

It's tomatoes stuffed with turkey salad and baked.

Hot Stuffed Tomatoes With Turkey Salad

Six medium-large tomatoes, 2 cups cubed, cooked or canned turkey, 1 cup diced celery, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt and pepper, 1/2 cup grated American cheese.

Method: Remove stem end from tomatoes. Take out centers and seeds, leaving half-inch wall. Drain upside-down while preparing filling. Combine turkey, celery, green pepper, onion salt, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with salt and pepper. Stuff tomatoes with salad mixture and top with grated cheese. Bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 15 minutes. Makes six servings.

Greetings!

Lady Baden Powell, world chief Guide, in a personal letter written to Mrs. Ambrose Gosling, Greater Victoria area commissioner, sent the following message: "Give your Guides and Guiders my loving greetings, please. I do not forget the very happy time I had with them in 1953."

CLUBWOMEN'S NEWS

Pageant—At the Christmas meeting of Metropolitan United Church Women's Missionary Society, Afternoon Auxiliary, a nativity pageant in scripture reading and song, was presented by Rev. E. Laura Butler, Mrs. J. Boorman and Mrs. H. Robinson. Mrs. H. White was narrator, and Mrs. Keith Henderson, accompanist. Carols were sung and a carol written by Mrs. C. Lockhart was read. Mrs. E. R. Bellwell presided and welcomed guests from Fairfield United Church after-noon auxiliary. Miss Marion Fawdry showed color slides of England, Scotland and the Coronation. Tea was served.

Installation—Mrs. J. McMillan was installed as worthy mistress of Britannia Lodge No. 216, Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, at a recent meeting. Other officers are Mrs. I. Clark, deputy mistress; Mrs. M. Buckley, junior deputy mistress; Mrs. N. White, immediate past mistress; Mrs. E. Veach, recording secretary; Mrs. J. Martinos, correspondence; Mrs. L. Cuthbert, treasurer; Mrs. L. Stocker, chaplain; Mrs. T. H. McAllister, guardian; Mrs. I. Harper, director of ceremonies; Mrs. J. Young, senior lecturer; Mrs. M. Ord, inner guard; Mrs. I. LUXITE—by Kayser in nylon-stretch knit

DEAR ABBY . . .
You're on the Right Track!
 By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: I am so ashamed of myself I could just die. I just sent my 10-year-old daughter to school without breakfast because she was slow getting dressed. I told her I didn't care if she ever came back. It all started when she didn't put her clothes out and couldn't find anything in the morning and was almost late for school. I acted like a maniac, screaming and banging things to her and pushed her out the door. When she left I sat down and cried like a baby. I am miserable. I've done this before and promised myself I wouldn't do it again, but here I am! Are there other mothers who act like that? What can I do to help myself, Abby?

SAD MOTHER
 DEAR SAD: If it is any comfort to you, you are not alone. I suggest you seek professional help. A good doctor could teach you how to relax, control your temper and live agreeably with you family.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I have been married for 16 years if you can call this a marriage. He is a husband six days a week but on Saturdays he is not married at all. He goes off early in the morning with his shaving kit and I don't see him until church time Sunday morning. He puts 200 miles on his car and who knows where he went? He says marriage is a JOB and everybody gets one day off a week from his job and Saturday is his day off from his marriage. Am I crazy or is he?

SIX-DAY WIFE
 DEAR SIX: Marriage is a seven-day-a-week job and any man who can talk his wife out of a "day off" from his marriage could sell sand to the Arabs.

DEAR ABBY: When my husband retired six years ago our three married daughters urged us to move to the city where they live. We have never been invited to any of their homes when they've had guests for cocktails, dinners or an evening. We evidently don't "fit in" with their friends. We are very much in demand however as "sitters," but it never occurs to them to invite us to their homes as "guests." This situation has hurt us both badly.

DO NOT FIT
 DEAR DO: If you don't "fit" — don't "sit."

For a personal reply, write to ABBY in care of this paper. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR ANYONE

To

MR. LINN A. GALE

"Merry Christmas
From Us All!"It was some 3 years ago that this kindly citizen, Mr. Gale, owner-operator of the MacDonald
Block at the Oak Bay Junction, began to worry about the danger to little children in front of his corner store. Cars would come whizzing around that corner, and on occasion jump the curb, so Mr. Gale decided to do something about it. He suggested to the City they could have a big portion of his property in turn, they would go ahead and make that danger spot safe for little children, and grow-ups too.
Mr. Roderick Clark the imaginative architect, conceived the plan, and the City carried it out. Then our Traffic Engineers went to work on the lights, and did a wonderful job.
Will all these people stand up and

DEPARTMENT OF RECREATION AND CONSERVATION

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

SEALED TENDERS, endorsed "TENDER FOR CONSTRUCTION OF A TOILET BUILDING AND A PICNIC SHELTER IN ENGLISHMAN RIVER FALLS PROVINCIAL PARK, VANCOUVER ISLAND," will be received by the Deputy Minister of Recreation and Conservation, Parliament Buildings, Victoria, B.C., up to 3:00 p.m. on Wednesday, the 14th day of January, 1959, and opened in public at that time and place.

Plans, specifications and conditions of tender may be obtained, on and after December 22, 1958, from the Provincial Parks Branch, 544 Michigan Street, Victoria, B.C., or from the offices of the Government Agents, Vancouver and Nanaimo, B.C., on deposit of the sum of $25.00 for each set, which will be refunded upon return of the plans, etc., in good condition within a period of one month of the opening of tenders, except in the case of the successful tenderer where the plans deposit is not refundable. Plans and specifications will also be on view at the offices of the Building and Industries Exchanges, 342 West Pender Street, Vancouver 3, B.C., and 818 Wharf St., Victoria, B.C.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank of Canada, made payable to the Minister of Finance, for ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the tender, which sum shall be forfeited if the party tendering declines to enter into the contract when called upon to do so.

Tenders must be made out on the forms supplied, signed with the actual signature of the tenderer, and enclosed for mailing or delivery in the envelope furnished. The tenderer shall not add any other identifying marks on the envelope.

No tender will be accepted or considered that contains an escalator clause or any other qualifying conditions, and the lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

Site inspections may be arranged by contacting the Engineering Section, Provincial Parks Branch, 544 Michigan Street, Victoria, B.C. (Telephone: EV 2-6111, Local 578).

Sight Boost Predicted in Gross National Product

OTTAWA (CP) — Canada's gross national product — value of goods and services produced — likely will total about $32,000,000,000 this year, a rise of two per cent over 1957, the bureau of statistics estimated today.

The small rise, compared with a postwar annual average of about four per cent, would be entirely due to increases in prices, the bureau said in a preliminary report dealing mainly with changes in the June-October period. Volume of production was expected to remain unchanged for the second consecutive year.

The gross national product is a key indicator of the state of the country's economic health. Federal officials have forecast a rise for 1959, perhaps of four per cent, boosting national production to $33,300,000,000.

Some indications of a step-up were shown in the third quarter, when national production rose to an annual rate of $32,388,000,000 up one-half of one per cent from the second quarter annual rate of $32,176,000,000.

ADVANCE IN VOLUME This latest increase reflects a small advance in production volume, the bureau said. Detected in the third quarter was a resumption of business stockpiling of goods instead of reducing stockpiles as occurred in earlier periods.

Other segments of the indicator showed little change. Spending by governments and consumers showed only a minor rise. Labor income remained fairly steady while corporation profits increased 3 per cent, before taxes.

For the year as a whole, the trend was one of declining business spending on industrial expansion and on stockpiling of goods, offset by higher spending by consumers and governments and an upswing in house construction.

In the July-September period, wages and other labor income increased to an annual rate of $16,196,000,000 compared with $16,049,000,000 in the similar period last year.

FARM INCOME UP But corporation profits before taxes eased to $2,280,000,000 from $2,420,000,000. Net farm income climbed to $1,220,000,000 from $1,092,000,000. National income increased to $24,744,000,000 from $24,152,000,000.

These developments pushed the gross national product to a third-quarter annual rate of $32,388,000,000 from $31,680,000,000 in the similar period last year.

For the year as a whole the gross national product totalled $31,443,000,000 in 1957. The bureau's expectation that there would be no rise in volume of production this year for the second successive year compared with volume increases of seven per cent in 1956 and nine per cent in 1955.

Consumer spending in the third quarter was at an annual rate of $16,196,000,000.

WILLIAM MARTIN KNEPP, formerly of 621 Hanger Avenue, Victoria, B.C., deceased.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that creditors and others having claims against the estate of the above deceased are hereby required to send them to the undersigned executors at P.O. Box 380, Victoria, B.C., before the 19th day of January, 1959, after which date the executors will distribute the said estate among the parties entitled thereto having regard only to the claims of which they then have notice.

LAND REGISTRY ACT

Section 161

IN THE MATTER OF Lot 10, Section 4, Beekley Farm, Victoria, B.C., Plan 248.

PROOF HAVING BEEN FILED in my office of the loss of Certificate of Title No. 4457-B to the above-mentioned land in the name of Lenora G. O. MacKenzie and bearing date the 17th day of August, 1921.

I HEREBY GIVE NOTICE of my intention, at the expiration of one calendar month from the first publication hereof, to issue to the said Lenora G. O. MacKenzie a Provisional Certificate of Indefeasible Title in lieu of such lost Certificate.

ANY PERSON having any information with reference to such lost Certificate of Title is requested to communicate with the undersigned.

DATED the 9th day of December, 1958, at the Land Registry Office, Victoria, B.C.

J. V. DICASTRI, Registrar, Victoria Land Registration District.

The Fisheries Research Board of Canada will charter a vessel with crew for hunting and collecting fur seals during 1959. The vessel will be required to operate in waters off the coasts of British Columbia, Washington and Alaska. The charter will be for 153 days, commencing March 1 and terminating July 21.

In addition to a captain and crew, accommodation must be available for two men from the Fisheries Research Board. The crew will be required to assist at all times handling specimens.

The vessel must be capable of remaining at sea for at least a week and should be equipped with reliable radio-telephone and adequate instruments for navigation on the high seas.

The charter payments to the owner are to cover rental of the vessel, payment of personnel and all operating, maintenance costs, except fuel and lubricating oil, which will be supplied by the Board.

Vessel owners who may be interested, apply to:

The Director, Fisheries Research Board of Canada, Biological Station, Nanaimo, B.C.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING

Government spending was at an annual rate of $6,056,000,000, compared with $6,016,000,000 in the second quarter and $5,728,000,000 last year.

Housing construction climbed to $1,832,000,000 in the third quarter from $1,780,000,000 in the second quarter and $1,412,000,000 last year while non-residential construction dipped to $2,924,000,000 from $3,008,000,000 and $3,308,000,000, respectively. Spending on new equipment and machinery declined to $2,420,000,000 from $2,445,000,000 in the second quarter and $2,656,000,000 in the third quarter a year ago.

Business inventories picked up. Compared with a second-quarter drop of $464,000,000 in the value of goods on shelves, inventories showed a gain of $76,000,000 in the July-September period, the first rise this year.

ACROSS THE PROVINCE

Teamsters Claim Truck 'Lockout'

From CP Dispatches VANCOUVER — Local 31 of the Teamsters Union in Vancouver says drivers have been locked out by three Vancouver trucking companies. The union has placed "lockout" picket lines around the firms. Involved in the dispute are Ryan's Carriers, Conn's Transfer and Fraser Transfer.

Union official Reg Lenfesty said the men were discharged, paid off, and told they could return to work if they would sign a new one-year contract at the present basic wage rate of $1.85 an hour.

Lenfesty said the present contract expired Dec. 31 and that the union was negotiating for a new one with a 50-cent-an-hour wage increase.

Pedestrian Killed

CHILLIWACK — An elderly pedestrian was killed Sunday night after he was struck by a car near his home in Chilliwack municipality. Dead is Kenneth John McNair, 79.

200-Foot Fall

HOPE — Peter Lowe of Vancouver escaped serious injury Sunday when his car went out of control in wet snow east of here and crashed 200 feet over a cliff into Skagit Creek. A passing truck driver saw Lowe's tire marks and helped the man from beneath his overturned vehicle.

Trial Ordered

PENTICTON — Olin Lee Brage, 53-year-old Kaleden orchardist, was committed for trial Saturday on a charge of murdering German immigrant Anita Budde, 28.

Asked if he had anything to say, the tall sandy-haired prisoner said in a high-pitched voice: "I am innocent of this charge, sir, your worship."

Too Many Impaired

VANCOUVER — Police arrested more motorists on impaired driving charges here this weekend than on any three average weekends this year, a police spokesman said.

Between 3 p.m. Saturday and 3 a.m. Sunday there were 11 arrests—an average of more than one an hour.

Ballot Burning Denied by Hurley

Final figures on voting in the Rossland-Trail by-election will not likely be known until the end of the month, chief electoral officer Fred Hurley said today.

Under the elections act, the final tabulation is not due for filing until 10 days after the election. Mailing time and holidays must be considered.

Still to be counted are votes cast by persons in hospital and persons who were absent from the poll in which they were registered, but who voted in other polls. The total of these votes is too slight to affect materially the results, which placed Social Credit candidate Donald Brothers in the lead by about a 400-vote margin.

Mr. Hurley denied the suggestion by Liberal Leader Arthur Laing on the weekend that votes cast under section 80 of the act would be burned.

They are in fact kept on file for one year, but are given no consideration unless a recount is requested when they would be checked again for voter qualification.

Under this section, anyone appearing to vote who cannot find his name on the voter's list, may cast a ballot in a special, sealed envelope. On the outside of the envelope, the voter signs an affidavit that he believes himself to be left off the list through error.

Later, during the counting, the affidavits are checked against the district master file, from which the voters' list was compiled. If there is no card in the file, the ballot is set aside unopened.

NO FIGURES

Mr. Hurley said he has no figures yet on the number of votes cast under section 80, and the number which were subsequently set aside unopened. Last week in Trail, returning officer Mrs. S. Angus said about 400 such votes were cast. Mr. Laing later set the total at 508.

Mr. Laing's criticism was directed at the "terrible shape" of the voters' list, which contained almost 1,500 less names than in 1956.

The Last Word

More about Eaton's

My grief . . . just 48 hours left to shop! But don't worry, opposite you'll find a whole page of wonderful gift suggestions for last-minute shoppers and every one is sure to please . . . and just look, each one is priced 5.00 and under, for those of you who are shopping on a budget. We hope they'll save you the time, trouble, wear and tear of hunting for gift ideas . . . Below you'll find several tips to help you with your last-minute shopping.

Personal Shopper

If you can't get a sitter to stay with the children, or your office hours just don't lend themselves to Christmas shopping, just pick up the telephone, Dial EV 2-7141 . . . ask for the Personal Shopper . . . this wonderful gal will find just the right gifts for everyone on your list. There is no charge for this service, you just pay for the gifts.

Delivery Notes

Planning on buying a refrigerator or Hi-Fi before the big day? And are you wondering just how to get it home and under the tree? Well, our delivery boys are the greatest and will come at a time when the coast is clear . . . or leave your gifts at a neighbour's if you wish (don't forget to tell them). Any gifts you buy up to 5:00 p.m. Wednesday will be delivered before the 25th.

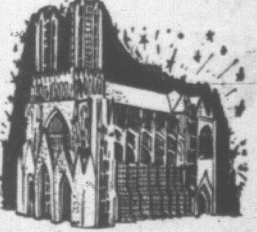

Glamour Gifts

We won't say a word if you bring your gifts to our expert Gift Wrappers on the second floor . . . and if you don't say a word, you'll be showered with the most extravagant compliments, for your gifts will be the most exquisite under the tree. Just tell the girl what kind of wrap you'd like and for a modest charge she'll do a wonderful transformation job for you.

Dial EV 2-7141

Good grief . . . you just remembered that you had completely forgotten Aunt Mabel's gift . . . and there is just no way to get to EATON'S before the deadline. Well, relax . . . just pick up the telephone and dial EV 2-7141, ask for the Order Line or the department concerned, and your worries are over. The service is quick and efficient and for a small charge your present will be wrapped.

Repeat Performance

If you haven't seen our lovely "Mirror Cathedral" windows yet, plan to come down soon. We showed them in our Easter windows a few years ago, and have had many requests for a repeat performance. These exquisite scale models of famous cathedrals the world over present a breathtakingly beautiful scene. Don't miss it! In our Douglas and View Street windows.

. . . the last word in gifts is an EATON Gift Certificate. Available in any denomination from 25c up. Can be exchanged for merchandise in any EATON store across Canada. Ask any sales clerk.

ATLAS CHRISTMAS SPIEL 'IN COSMIC BAD TASTE'

LONDON (UPI)—A London newspaper today described President Eisenhower's Christmas message from the Atlas satellite as "A joke in cosmic bad taste."

"The Americans are to be congratulated on a scientific triumph; but their attempt to disguise the sinister undertones of this fearful weapon by dressing it up in the clothes of Father Christmas shows how tragically they misunderstand the true nature of the cold war," editorialized the Daily Telegraph.

"The sound of 'Hark the Herald Yankees Sing' from outer space shocks far more than it reassures."

The Last Musings Of Victoria's 'Grand Old Man'

On Dec. 5 Victoria's "Grand old man," Herbert Kent, died at the age of 95 years, five months. He left behind him a remarkable testament of his philosophy, which seems particularly apropos at this Christmas-time.

With the kind permission of his family, The Times takes pleasure in printing herewith the second of four extracts from Herbert Kent's papers, which he called: "Some Musings and Recollections":

By HERBERT KENT

Recollections clinging to home and garden may have a streak of sentiment about them, but the man without such is a sorry spectacle.

One incident in my life I shall always remember. It was when I was quite a young lad and we were living in a house on the site of the Curry Funeral Parlors. Subsequent to our living there the house became Mrs. Cridge's School for Girls, and among those who attended were Georgie Waitt (later my wife), Miss Loewen (later Lady Barnard) and Miss Galley (later Mrs. Matson).

During our residence there I contracted diphtheria—how I know not—and the treatment in those days was to tie a small sponge on the end of a stick, put some caustic solution on it and swab the throat. Not a very pleasant cure but at that period quite effective. The doctor (J. W. Powell) called with the sponge, etc., and coaxed me to open my mouth. This took some time until my mother, in order to expedite the job, promised to give me 10 cents if I would do what the doctor wanted.

This did the trick, because 10 cents in those days was a large amount for a boy to have to spend, but very small for present day youngsters. However, the 10 cents opened my mouth and the swab did its work, and after that I did not mind the operations done daily for some days.

How strange it is that the greatest of all commonplaces—death—should always surprise us. Why do we pray in our Litany for God to deliver us from sudden death? If I could know that such would be the way of my own end, a real weight would be lifted from my mind.

To die quickly and suddenly, in all the activity of life, in comparative tranquillity, with no sickroom apparatus about, with no long lingering illness and weary waiting for the last call, that to my mind is a great joy, and although such things are ordained by God, yet I trust when the curtain falls for the last time on my earthly pilgrimage, that I shall be spared a long illness and pass peacefully and quietly away as both my parents and my wife did.

This business of life. Everybody is engaged in it, it has many names but it is all business. One can work at it or idle through it, but never escape it, because at the last every soul in the world must die in harness.

I think I can safely say and without fear of contradiction that I have worked at the business of life. I am meaning the word in its general term, and I have never been one to idle through it.

I started when I was 17½ years of age and stopped, when a period of sickness overtook me, at 82.

Henry Ford once said: "I have tried to live as mother would have wanted me to." My view exactly but I would include my father as well.

What is life? It is just a vapor which appearing for a little while soon vanishes away. It is a broad highway we must all pass along until we come to the end of the road and as far as our bodies are concerned, pass into oblivion. The soul soars triumphant above death and this sorry world, to the refuge of "the everlasting arms."

This world is a great wide road that we call life. It continues wide until the years pass, and then it narrows, and with old age soon ends in a blind road. But no, a blind road leads nowhere, whereas the road of life—when it comes to an end—leads us to a brighter road and a never ending rest, and a safe lodging with God.

70 Die in Bus Crash, 2 Tots Only Survivors

OAXACA, Mex. (AP)—Seventy persons were killed Sunday in one of Mexico's worst highway accidents. An overcrowded, speeding bus plunged into a ravine near this tropical city in southern Mexico.

There were only two survivors, a baby and a boy of 3. Both were critically injured. The bus, with a legal capacity of 40 persons, was packed with villagers from San Dionisio Ocotepac returning from Sunday market day at nearby Tlacolula. Many were riding on top of the bus, hanging onto its doors, and on the rear bumper. They were in a holiday mood.

The driver apparently lost control of his speeding vehicle on a curve and ran off the road.

Bodies were scattered over an area 100 yards square. Persons from San Dionisio Ocotepac quickly gathered at the scene, looking for friends or kin. There were cries and shouts, weeping and cursing.

Among the dead was one of the owners of the bus line, Julio Ortiz Diaz.

Central Saanich Boy Shot; Manslaughter Charge Laid

SHOOTING VICTIM

Shot to death Sunday by neighbor who mistook him for marauding dog was Arrie Schut, 6½, third from right (arrow) in this family photograph. Also in picture are, from left, Gerald,

2, Mrs. Allie Schut, Frank, 4, Rene, 7, and Dick, 8. Their distraught father, a Dutch immigrant, said today he "feels sorry" for neighbor Adam Reisch.

BOY WAS FOUND groaning near woodpile at the back of barn at centre in this photograph of the Schut farm.

He died a few minutes later. Police say shot was fired by neighbor from rear of his home shown at right.

Slain Nurse Dug Up; Was She Buried Alive?

DRUG FIRM PILL-FERED

ST. LOUIS (AP)—A drug firm has a serious vitamin deficiency.

30 Killed In Plunge

ATHENS (AP)—A crowded bus plunged off a mountain road into a 1,000-foot ravine 15 miles northeast of Yennena, Greece, today, killing 30 passengers and injuring five.

Most of the victims were teen-aged school girls returning to their villages in northwestern Greece from Yennena to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents.

Bodies of the victims were found strewn along the steep mountain slope down the side of the ravine. Several bodies were carried away by a stream at the bottom.

PRAYER FOR TODAY

Teach us, Lord, to praise and thank Thee for all Thou art and all Thou givest us. Move our lips, so ready to blame and to complain, to bless and to rejoice. Give us victory in our lives and enable us to encourage those who seek Thy kingdom, Thy power and Thy glory; in Jesus' name. Amen.

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Police fitted in the pieces today of a plot they said led to the brutal killing of attractive Olga Duncan, a Canadian-born nurse whose bruised body was found in a shallow grave beside a lonely road.

An itinerant laborer, with a local police record, climaxed his tale of what he said was a hired slaying by leading officers Sunday to her handscooped grave.

Augustine Baldonado, 25, said in a statement that the dead woman's mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, hired him and Luis Moya, 22, to kill five-months-pregnant Olga Duncan for $6,000.

Investigators said the 30-year-old victim may have been buried alive. They quoted Baldonado: "I don't know. We strangled her, and I think we killed her before we put her in the ground."

POLICE SHOCKED

One officer called it "the most cold-blooded crime I've ever heard of."

The victim, a surgical nurse, had been missing since Nov. 18. She was the estranged wife of Santa Barbara lawyer Frank Duncan. They separated two weeks after their marriage last June.

District Attorney Roy Gustafson said jealousy of the older woman toward her daughter-in-law was the major motive.

Investigators said two additional arrests might be made in the case, but would give no clue as to the identity of the individuals.

Coroner Virgil L. Payton, meantime, indicated that because the murdered nurse was carrying a child of more than five months' development, the case possibly would be considered a double homicide.

Less than four months before her death, the dead woman had written her mother, Mrs. Jessie Kupczyk of Benito, Man., that Mrs. Duncan held "an uncanny hold" over her son. She said she planned an annulment.

"Don't dwell on my troubles," Olga Duncan wrote. "Life is short, and I want to enjoy the rest of it."

Moya, who has denied knowledge of the slaying, was de-

POPE JOHN TO VISIT ROME JAILS

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Precedent-breaking Pope John XXIII announced tonight that he plans to visit the jails of Rome on the day after Christmas.

Vatican sources said they could recall of no other pope in modern history who has ever gone to Rome's prisons at Christmas or any other time.

Tenement Blast Kills 3 Children

MONTREAL (CP)—The bodies of three children and one adult were taken today from the rubble of an east-end tenement building on Gascon Avenue after a sudden explosion heaved the roof off and tore the walls apart. Fire made rescue work hazardous.

It was not known at the time if more bodies were in the debris—beds, bath and bricks piled atop huge chunks of wood.

Three of the four bodies were identified as Lucy Goralczyk, 2; Nellie Goralczyk, 5, and John Raczkowski, 42.

The fourth body was believed that of a son of John Raczkowski.

Four persons were in hospital. One was reported in serious condition.

The blast shattered the brick and wood building, flipping debris into the street and smothering a nearby parked automobile.

Cause of the explosion was not known, but an official of Quebec Natural Gas Corporation said investigators searching the ruins and neighboring buildings so far have not found traces of gas.

Fire Kills Boy Lost In Confusion

COLDWATER, Ont. (CP)—A baby boy was burned to death in his home early Sunday when his father threw a brother and twin sister from a second-storey window but missed him in the confusion and smoke.

Kerry Laughlin was to have been christened that day with his one-year-old twin sister Kim.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Laughlin were awakened early Sunday by the fire which swept their frame home in this village 10 miles northwest of Orillia in 20-below-zero weather.

Mrs. Laughlin, 28, jumped into snow from the second-storey window. Mr. Laughlin, 32, dropped out Robert, 3, then threw Kim and an armful of bedclothes into the snow.

He tried to return to the house but was forced back by flames.

'MILK FOR HUNGRY CHILDREN'

Store Staff Gives $100

With a healthy $100 assist from the T. Eaton Co. employees' charitable fund, The Times' Milk for Hungry Children campaign today climbed steadily toward the $6,000 mark.

Proceeds go to providing milk for starving children in Hong Kong, Korea and India. The milk is shipped by the Unitarian Service Committee, which is trying to raise a national total of $200,000.

The Times will keep its fund open until Dec. 30. Contributions will be received at The Times' main office, Fountain Circle, or downtown office, Broad Street.

.22 Rifle Bullet Meant for Dog Attacking Rabbits

By DAVID COWLISHAW

The 6½-year-old son of a Dutch immigrant was shot dead on his parents' small farm in Central Saanich Sunday by a neighbor who mistook the boy for a dog that had been attacking his rabbits.

Dead is Arrie Joannes Schut, one of five children of Dick Schut, 6929 Veyannes, a plywoods patcher at B.C. Forest Products.

The neighbor, Adam Reisch, a dairyman who lives near the Schut home, was charged with manslaughter. Reisch, free on $5,000 bail, will appear in court again Dec. 30.

Central Saanich police say the Schut boy died from a bullet from a .22 rifle which apparently entered one shoulder, passed right through his body, and left through the other shoulder.

Inquest has been set tentatively at McCall's Funeral Home for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

According to police, the shooting took place shortly after noon Sunday when young Arrie went to play with a ball near a woodpile at the back of the ramshackle wood house.

Police said Reisch was sitting in his house paralleling the Schuts' home 100 yards away. He apparently noticed movement near the woodpile, believed it to be a dog that recently had been attacking his rabbits, grabbed a .22 rifle and went out the back of his house.

Police said Reisch then saw something move again near the woodpile, and fired.

Then he went back indoors.

Found Boy Crawling Toward House

Meanwhile the boy's mother, Mrs. Allie Schut, had heard the shot and went outside to find her son groaning slightly and crawling toward the house.

Dr. Leonard Bapty, who lives nearby, was called, but the boy was dead. The bullet that killed him passed through one shoulder and out the other.

Reisch, a 35-year-old bachelor, was taken into custody shortly after.

The dead boy's 39-year-old father said today he "felt sorry" for Reisch.

"He is lonely and he often used to come to watch our television. We have nothing against him. Being bitter will not bring our boy back."

Schut said his son looked "like a dead deer" when he got to him.

'It Was No Good . . . Arrie Had Gone'

"We tried it, but it was no good. Arrie had gone."

As Mrs. Schut stood in the back garden of their small farm home today, her other children clustered around her—Dick, 8, Frank, 4, and Gerald, 2.

"They don't seem to understand what has happened," Mrs. Schut said. "They can't realize."

Her husband put his arm around her and looked red-eyed over the 5½ acres he bought to "try and make a decent living for my family."

"I am growing strawberries and cabbages," he said. "It's not much of a place but we were making something of it."

'God Says We Must Forgive, Forget'

"But God says we must forgive and forgive. We will do it, but it is not always easy. Especially when your son has been taken from you."

The boy had attended grade one at Keating Elementary School.

Central Saanich Police Chief Fred Brownlee said Reisch was arrested shortly after police arrived at the Schut home some time after 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He was released on bail later in the day.

Reisch could not be located

Now I don't know if I feel like going on."

He paused to dab at his eyes with a large red handkerchief, then went on, "There are so many bills, bills, bills. How can we pay them?" and he wandered back into the house, his family trailing behind him.

Inside they sat around the kitchen table and took out a folder of family pictures. A small green alarm clock ticked merrily as they looked gloomily at photographs of their dead son and brother, and wood in the stove crackled nearby.

"Only yesterday we cut the Christmas tree," the father said. "Then, 20 minutes later, my boy is dead."

This morning, The shutters of his a-bulding home were tightly drawn, and only a black cat was seen near the premises.

At the back of the house a small shack carried a notice, "This property has been condemned."

Reisch worked as a farm hand for Dr. Leonard Bapty, who examined the shot boy.

Funeral will be at the Church of Assumption, West Saanich Road, 10 a.m. Saturday, Rev. Father W. Hanley the celebrant. Interment in the churchyard.

SHANTYTOWN SMASHED BY STORM, 31 KILLED

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) — Thirty-one persons were reported killed and thousands injured and homeless today as a result of an unprecedented all-night rainstorm.

Police recovered 23 bodies, but many more victims were known to be buried under shantytown huts and landslides of rock and sand.

The mayor opened the big Maracanan soccer stadium as a temporary shelter for the thousands of homeless families.

scribed by Santa Barbara sheriff John Ross as badly shaken upon learning of Baldonado's statement.

"How could he say that?" Moya asked. "Believe me... believe me!"

Mrs. Duncan, too, has insisted she knows nothing of her daughter-in-law's disappearance. Gustafson said she gave no statement when questioned again after finding of the body.

Police say Mrs. Duncan has been married five times in eight years. She is charged with posing in court here as her son's wife, along with a paid confederate, to obtain a fraudulent annulment of her son's marriage last August.

Olga came here from Vancouver a year ago. She was born near Dauphin, Man.

It was the discovery of the spurious annulment, authorities say, that caused them to begin an intensive search for the missing daughter-in-law.

FACE KIDNAP CHARGE

Charges are on file at Santa Barbara accusing Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado of conspiring to kidnap and murder Olga Duncan. They are held in lieu of $100,000 bail apiece.

Gustafson said he intends to present murder charges against all three at a session of the grand jury in Ventura Friday.

KILLED BY TURNS

Gustafson quoted Baldonado as saying he and Moya took turns holding the struggling woman while the other dug the 16-inch-deep grave. Both men throttled her, Baldonado's statement said.

Baldonado was further quoted as saying he and Moya went to Olga Duncan's Santa Barbara apartment after midnight November 17 and forced her at gunpoint to accompany them.

4 Canadians Die as Plane Hits Peak

PISTOIA, Italy—Italian rescue squads worked in wind and rain today to bring down the bodies of four Canadian air force men killed in a crash Sunday night on a wooded Apennine peak.

Faint walkie-talkie messages from rescuers on the scene of the disaster indicated no trace of a fifth man who according to the C-47 transport's home base at Gros Tequien, France, was also aboard the crashed RCAF Dakota.

The plane, on routine transport flight from Gros Tequien to Pisa, crashed in a windstorm on the summit of Poggio Cristallo, 3,000 feet up in the Apennines north of here. Some peasants said they saw the plane explode in flight.

The scene was little more than 20 miles from the spot where another RCAF transport crashed landed nine days ago, injuring three.

'COULD START WAR'

Secret Rocket Firings Rapped

WASHINGTON (CP) — Fear that an unannounced satellite launching could accidentally touch off nuclear war is expressed in a report drafted by a congressional committee's staff.

The report was prepared before the launching of the new Atlas satellite — a plan known beforehand to only 35 men.

But George J. Feldman, staff director for the House of Representatives' special committee on astronautics and space exploration, said Saturday:

"The launching of Atlas gives particular moment to the report. The danger is clear and present, as the committee staff pointed out."

The report posed this question: what if Russia or the U.S. mistakes an unannounced satellite launching for a war missile and fires off a counter-attack?

It also recommended an answer: require advance filing of satellite flight plans.

Before the Atlas took off even persons in the blockhouse thought it was to be another test of its qualities as an intercontinental ballistic missile. The report said:

"The technically advanced nations could some day obliterate themselves—not for any real cause, but purely through accident — by throwing the automatic war switch in the mistaken belief that an attack is being made. Conversely, the lack of flight plans might mean inability to protect oneself if a real attack occurs."

Meanwhile, scientists were ready today for more two-way radio contacts with the U.S. Atlas missile-satellite, now in its fourth day of hurtling about the globe.

There were indications defence department communications specialists might try new tests later in the day.

Radio contacts—like those carried out successfully during the last few days—are attempted when the nearly 4½-ton satellite reaches a favorable position in relation to four sending and receiving stations in the United States.

The weekend saw a number of voice and radio-teletype messages transmitted to the fast-travelling satellite and relayed back to posts in California, Georgia, Texas and Arizona.

Most of the words that flashed back and forth were those of President Eisenhower in the message sent up with the Atlas in recorded form, then erased by remote control and sent again.

The weekend tests involved (1) relaying Eisenhower's voice-recorded message, (2) relaying—in coded form—that message and another by radio-teletypewriter, and (3) leaving the messages in the satellite's tape recorder for a while before triggering their transmission to ground stations.

Sunday afternoon, a station at Fort Stewart, Ga., sent out seven teletypewriter messages simultaneously to the Atlas. All seven messages carried Eisenhower's words. Then, on radio command, all seven were returned from the satellite simultaneously.

'Small World' Still Silent

LONDON (AP)—Radio amateurs throughout Western Europe and North Africa failed during the weekend to pick up any message from four Britons trying to sail across the Atlantic in a balloon.

Nothing has been heard from the balloon, the Small World, since Friday. Even then the craft's radio operator, Tim Elliott, failed to give his position.

The three men and one woman set off 10 days ago from the Canary Islands to drift with the trade winds to Barbados, in the West Indies. The last reported position was about 250 miles south of the Canaries.

1,500 DAYS WITHOUT A FATALITY

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP) — Motorists today parked free of charge on Medicine Hat streets in observance of this southeastern Alberta city's traffic fatality-free record.

On Sunday, Medicine Hat passed 1,500 days without a traffic fatality, a North American record for cities of 20,000 or more, and gay blue and red caps were placed on the city's 500 meters to allow a day of free parking.

The city traffic committee immediately set a new goal—1,600 traffic fatality-free days.

Goldfine Jailed 3 Months, Fined $1,500 for Contempt

BOSTON (AP) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine and his blonde secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, today were given jail terms by a federal court for criminal contempt in failure to furnish tax officials with full records of Goldfine textile mills.

Goldfine was ordered to serve three months and Miss Paperman 10 days. Judge Charles E. Gwydzanski Jr., who convicted them last Friday, said the sentences will start Jan. 7.

In a separate action immediately afterward, the two were fined on civil contempt charges brought by the United States Security and Exchange Commission.

Judge Wyzanski fined Goldfine $1,500 and Miss Paperman $500. Alwyn Jealous, an officer of Goldfine's East Boston Company, a realty firm, also was fined $500. All were charged with failing to file required reports with the SEC.

The government told the court the reports now have been filed and the civil contempt has been cured. The only avenue of punishment was a fine for expenses incurred in securing the reports.

In delaying imprisonment until Jan. 7, the judge said to Goldfine:

"I have no wish that you spend this season in jail and I wish to give you adequate opportunity to present this case to the court of appeals. Bail is denied."

GOLDFINE DISMAYED

A look of dismay crossed the 67-year-old Goldfine's face as he stood behind a railing separating him from six defence lawyers.

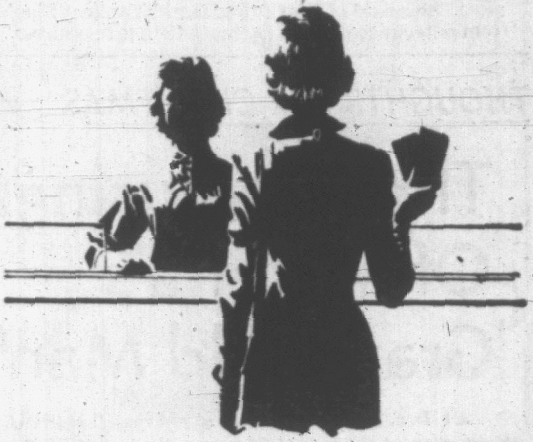

Miss Paperman sagged a bit as the judge passed sentence.

Judge Wyzanski told Miss Paperman he based his decision on the fact that both she and Goldfine were "intimate with tribunal proceedings and were well aware of the penalties for flouting the authority of this court."

THIRD CONTEMPT

Goldfine also is involved in a third contempt case. He pleaded not guilty last Friday to a contempt of Congress charge in Washington in connection with his alleged failure to answer questions about his financial affairs before a congressional subcommittee last summer.

Goldfine is due to go on trial in the Washington case March 16.

SURPRISE MARRIAGE of actress Ingrid Bergman and Swedish businessman Pars Schmidt took place Sunday in London's Caxton Hall registry office. Pictured here during a stay in Wales last June, the couple left immediately for honeymoon in Paris. They were expected to wait until Miss Bergman's divorce from Italian director Alberto Rossellini became final. (AP Wirephoto.)

Ingrid Wed Again To Rich Swede

PARIS (AP)—Ingrid Bergman called the cops today so she could honeymoon in peace with her new husband, wealthy Swedish businessman Lars Schmidt.
The 43-year-old Swedish actress and her third spouse, who is 41, eluded press and public Sunday and were married in a quiet civil ceremony, in London's Caxton Hall registry office.
By the time the press arrived, the couple had flown to Paris and taken refuge in a little walled farm Schmidt owns 15 miles from Paris.
By dawn the farm was besieged by reporters and photographers, who began mounting the wall. Miss Bergman called police from the nearby village and they ordered the press off the wall.
In marrying again, Miss Bergman defied the Rome Court of Appeal which is considering a state prosecutor's contest of a lower Rome court's decree annulling her marriage to Italian film director Roberto Rossellini.
She had announced months ago she would wed Schmidt when she was free from Rossellini. At a hearing last Friday in home her lawyer was warned the remarriage before the appeal court's decision "would be highly detrimental to her case." Another hearing is scheduled Feb. 3.
The actress' London lawyer, Ambrose Appelle, said the new marriage is legal in Sweden, Britain and France. Miss Bergman has said she and Schmidt will live in France.
Under Italian law, the annulment is not legally effective until the appeal is decided. The state prosecutor had said previously he would file bigamy charges if either Miss Bergman or Rossellini married before the case was settled.

Boy for Jane Name: 'Miklos'

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—Actress Jayne Mansfield gave birth to a baby boy Sunday. The baby, weighing nine pounds, 9½ ounces, was named Miklos after his weight-lifter father, Mickey Hargitay. The hospital reported mother and son both doing nicely.
The blonde actress and Hargitay were married last Jan. 13 in a ceremony that caused a near-riot in nearby Palos Verdes.
The birth of the couple's first child Sunday, however, caused far less hoopla.
Mickey, who also works as an actor, quietly drove his wife to St. John's Hospital shortly before dawn.

THE STINKERS WERE FEW AND FAR BETWEEN IN 1958

Fewer Pictures, More Quality Seen in 1959

By PHIL LEE
Times Movie Critic

Financially, the motion picture business as a whole enjoyed anything but a thundering success during 1958.

But artistically, surely, the year must be considered to be the industry's best in a long, long time.

If one can ignore such admitted trash as "I Was a Teenage Werewolf," "Hot Rod Gang" and "The Curse of the Faceless Man"—and I'll be the first to admit that these require tall ignoring—first run pictures were of commendable calibre with good, old-fashioned stinkers being few and far between.

TRY OR DIE

It was obvious from the outset that the industry was trying. And it had to try or face oblivion in light of the fact that as the year came to a close television was wooing the masses to an all-time high of 70 million viewers on Sunday nights alone. The try was made through 194 feature films, a new numerical low. However, it is expected that the 1959 output will be even lower with the emphasis more than ever being placed on highest possible quality.

Some of the 1958 tries for quality failed but those seeing them must have appreciated that the failure was slight. A little more of this, a little less of that quite easily might have turned a few into all-time greats. As it was, these were clear proof that it was better to fail at something big than fail at something small.

I have in mind under this category of near hits the fiery adaptation of "Dostoyevsky's classic," "The Brothers Karamazov," Shirley Booth's "Hot Spell" and, again, her "The Matchmaker." One might add also Gary Cooper's "10 North

Young Collector Gets High Honor From Stamp Group

PETERBOROUGH, Ont. (CP) — A 20-year-old commerce student has been elected the youngest member of Britain's Royal Philatelic Society.

John Young, of Peterborough, a stamp collector since the age of 12, won the honor through his discovery of 91 year-old post office documents while on stamp research work in the Nova Scotia provincial archives.

The son of Dr. Herbert N. Young, he is studying at Dalhousie University, Halifax.

MARLON BRANDO

Fredrick" and Herman Wouk's "Marjorie Morningstar."

Then there were the hits, fine pictures all, a credit to any age and to the men and countries responsible for them.

There was "The Big Country"—easily the best western of the year—"Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," Danny Kaye's surprising "Me and the Colonel," "Long, Hot Summer," "The Key," "Paths of Glory," "The Young Lions," "The Vikings," "Stage Struck" and "The Shiralee."

There were, also, sparkling comedies, among them the top films of the year. There was the uproarious "The Reluctant Debutante," the gently humorous and wise "High Cost of Loving," "Teacher's Pet," "Houseboat" and, of course, "Indiscreet," with Cary Grant making sheep eyes and determined passes at Ingrid Bergman.

OLD PROS

When it came to acting honors many of the same old pros were again on hand to carry the large share of the burden.

There was Marlon Brando for his memorable performance in "The Young Lions," Danny Kaye for his straight role in "Me and the Colonel," Trevor Howard as the frightened but determined wartime tugboat man in "The Key," Kirk Douglas in the bitter war piece, "Paths of Glory," Clark Gable in "Teacher's Pet," and Anthony Quinn in "Hot Spell."

On the distaff side were Elizabeth Taylor as Maggie the Cat in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," Susan Strasberg in "Stage Struck," Shirley Booth in "Hot Spell" and "The Matchmaker," Joanne Woodward in

SHIRLEY BOOTH

"Long, Hot Summer," Doris Day in "Teacher's Pet" and Kay Kendall in "The Reluctant Debutante."

UNFORGETTABLE

In addition to these stars there were some unforgettable supporting actors as well. Above all, there was big, burly ballad singer Burl Ives. Who can forget him in "The Big Country" or as Big Daddy in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof?" Surely he is a shoo-in for supporting Academy honors.

However, one shouldn't forget Orson Welles in "The Long Hot Summer," or Madeleine Sherwood as Ives' daughter-in-law in "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof." And what about those wonderful bit jobs such as carried out by Peter Myers as the impossible young guards officer in "The Reluctant Debutante" or by Alfonso Bedoya as the loyal Mexican retainer in "The Big Country?"

DOCUMENTARIES

One must not neglect certain documentaries either. There was J. Arthur Rank's magnificent film of Russia's Bolshoi Ballet while the famed troupe was in London for a command performance. Then there was "Karamoja," showing the legendary offspring of Ham, son of Noah. And British Columbians had every right to feel proud of "The Tall Country" by Parry Films of North Vancouver, a short that showed off the wonders of the province in its centennial year to a queen's taste.

Of course, some of the year's outstanding films have not arrived in town as yet. There is "Gigi," hailed by some as one of the finest of 1958. There is "The Defiant Ones" which has been hailed by most critics as the No. 1 production of the year with star Tony Curtis being mentioned as an Academy Award nominee. And, finally, there is "South Pacific" which is still on a roadshow basis and may not hit town for a while.

HEAVY FIRE DAMAGE believed caused by a faulty furnace is examined by fireman Jim Aspinwall at 1116 Collinson early Sunday. A ground floor apartment in a converted dwelling was thoroughly gutted and there was extensive smoke and

MONTÉ ROBERTS

The tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce has expressed the wish that daylight saving time be extended another month each autumn.

Bless their dollar-loving little hearts, they feel this will bring more tourists to B.C.

As I understand it (and my understanding of daylight saving time is very similar to my understanding of atomic energy), to achieve daylight saving time one advances the clock one hour.

If the tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce feels that advancing the clock by one hour will bring more tourists, why stop there?

Why not advance the clock two hours?

It is obvious this would be twice as attractive a proposition to tourists as advancing the clock by only ONE hour.

Tourists would flock to Victoria if we had fast-fast time, instead of just fast time.

And why restrict it to just one extra month in the autumn?

Why not have daylight saving time year round?

If there is any merit in the tourist group's idea, this would mean the joint would be jumping with tourists from January to December, and the tourist trade group wouldn't have anything to beef about.

I would like, however, to carry this idea to its logical conclusion.

If two hours daylight saving time is better than one, wouldn't three be better than two?

And why stop there? Why not try for four?

And if you have four, why not 24?

By advancing the clock 24 hours, you would not just be saving daylight, you would be saving a day.

Preferably a rainy day.

Then, instead of putting something by for a rainy day, you would be putting a rainy day by for something.

Let us be constructive and aggressive about this, tourist trade group of the Victoria Chamber of Commerce.

TOPICS OF THE DAY

Canadian Pacific Lawn Bowlers' winter club holds a Christmas Social Wednesday at 2 p.m. There will be bridge, carpet bowling, cribbage, darts, billiards, checkers and chess, and other games. The event takes place in the club rooms at Crystal Garden on Belleville Street, where visitors to the elderly persons recreation centre are welcome any afternoon.

Estimated value of mineral production in British Columbia this year is reduced 14 per cent from 1957, it was announced today by Mines Minister Kenneth Kiernan.

Values for 1958 are expected to reach $149,000,000 as compared to $172,264,617 last year.

ASK THE TIMES

Q How can I take pictures at night with my Bauer 88c movie camera, lens 1.9, 4 speeds, of the lighted Parliament Building, also of the lighted houses with colored 8mm. film, and what type? B.Q.

A. Film to use—Type A Kodachrome 8 mm.

Exposure—If the camera is "hand held" shoot at speed 16 frames per second with the lens set at 1.9 (wide open).

If camera is to be used on a tripod shoot at speed 8 frames per second, with lens still 1.9. This will be a better exposure but should not be used if there is any movement.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to The Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily. All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to dealers.

Belton Topp Turner, Saanich-ton, backed out of a driveway on Fisgard near the police station—and kept going right into a car driven by Det. William Andrews.

In city police court today, after pleading guilty to a charge of impaired driving, Turner was fined $250 and restricted to business driving only for one year.

An Indian crafts centre may be set up at Goldstream by the Indian Village Co-operative which asked for a lease on 28 acres held by Greater Victoria water board. The board, at its last meeting, renewed a lease on the property for the Victoria Fish and Game Association but reserved the right to lease any by the association to the co-operative which hopes to sell Indian sweaters on a non-profit basis.

The B.C. Drivers' Manual which everyone must study before being tested for a driving licence, has been revised and copies are now available at licence issuing centres. The new booklet is filled with diagrams and easy reference material and lists every question, with correct answers, which may be asked of a licence applicant.

Victoria Public Library will close early, at 5 p.m. Wednesday and re-open Saturday, for the Christmas holiday, librarian John Lort said today. The library also will close at 5 p.m. New Year's Eve and re-open Jan. 2.

City Hall will close at 5 p.m. on both Christmas and New Year's Eves, re-opening the following Mondays.

The Kiwanis Club of Victoria North will celebrate its eighth anniversary with a dinner meeting at the Monterey Restaurant Tuesday at 6.15 p.m.

Two films, "Grand Canyon" and "United Kingdom," will be shown.

Harold MacGregor, president, announces that the installation of officers and directors for 1959 will take place at the Empress Hotel Jan. 8 at 6.30 p.m.

Reginald Vernon Book, 603 Wilson, was sentenced in Saanich police court today to three months definite and one year indeterminate for attempting breaking and entering a flower shop Dec. 7.

Court was told police found Book at the rear of Cooper's when he was arrested with a length of rope wrapped around his waist "in case he had to climb down a skylight," and a cloth-wrapped chisel and hammer.

IN JAYCEE HOME LIGHTING CONTEST

Third Win for Ex-Prairie Farmer

Thomas J. Johnston, 3380 Beach Drive, won the Junior Chamber Christmas lighting contest today for the third consecutive year.

A retired prairie farmer, Mr. Johnston won top place among completely decorated home entries and also took first prize in the depiction of the Christmas message category.

Judges toured the city Sunday night to view about 60 entries in the contest before announcing winners this morning.

Runners up were: Decorated house, P. Fern, 3285 Cadboro Bay Road, and Mrs. H. Cousins, 1985 Burnside West; depiction of Christmas message, L. B. Parkin, 1330 Mitchell and Rosalie Roberts Beauty Salon, 145 Moss.

Winners in the best decorated window or door category were: S. E. W. Robinson, 1039 Bank; J. Fisher, 1280 Hewlett Place, and Lansdowne Junior High School.

Topping the novice class was James Weir, 2549 Wootton Crescent; R. H. Abbott, 3200 Richmond, and Mrs. Ray Hunt, 3221 Whiteside, came second and third. Special mentions went to T. J. O'Neill, 2561 Bermuda Place; George Askey, 741 Lavender, and M. A. Kelly, 962 Lampson Place.

Electrical appliances were awarded the winners by the Jaycees. Two special awards from B.C. Electric Co. will be made at a later date.

The Jaycees will outline the best route for viewing decorated homes Tuesday.

Damage Hits $6,000 In Apartment Blaze

A Sunday morning apartment house fire at 1116 Collinson caused an estimated $6,000 damage and sent a woman occupant to hospital with shock.

Two other Sunday fires kept firemen busy but caused little damage.

Firemen were called to a three-storey apartment — a converted house — at 7.45 a.m. to find the blaze had gained a hold throughout the ground-level floor containing a furnace room and suite which was not occupied at the time.

Flames had begun to burst through to the second storey at a cupboard, firemen said, and some difficulty was encountered in fighting the fire because of the number of small lower-floor rooms.

The fire was controlled in an hour, but equipment did not leave the scene for three hours. For the remainder of the day a fireman was left on guard.

TO HOSPITAL

Mrs. Elizabeth Riley, one of the occupants routed out by the fire, was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital for observation and was reported to be in good condition today.

There were a total of six apartments in the building, most of which were heavily smoked or damaged by water.

At 3.05 a.m. firemen were called to 1742 Pembroke, the home of W. J. Clement, where a faulty furnace was responsible for a small blaze which burned into sub-flooring. Damage was estimated at $50.

CADETS ACT

Furnace trouble was blamed a third time when firemen were called to RSCC Rainbow, at the foot of Roberts, where cadets had the situation under control after trying to light the furnace at 10.45 a.m.

Firemen said the boys were using paper boxes to light the furnace and when they caught fire and flared up the boys formed a bucket brigade to do douse flames.

There was no damage.

1.4 Million Feet Of Lumber Loaded By U.K. Freighter

The Royal Mail Line passenger-freighter Loch Ryan began a lumber lift at Ogden Point today which will see 1,400,000 board feet loaded before she leaves Victoria.

The big shipment is consigned to U.K. ports.

Loch Ryan will be in port over Christmas and Boxing Day — holidays for the long-shoremen — and will not leave until next weekend.

The British freighter will be joined at The Point over Christmas by two other lumber carriers, Brede and Michael G. Livanos.

Eleven people went to hospital with assorted minor injuries after a series of weekend traffic accidents in Victoria and Saanich.

Six-year-old Henry Lamb, 908 Kings, is in good condition at St. Joseph's Hospital recovering from abrasions received when he fell from his father's car on Trans-Canada Highway near Langford at 5.15 p.m. Sunday.

The boy narrowly missed being run over by a car following, driven by Jack B. Paine, Redwood Auto Court, who reported the accident to police.

Others injured in traffic included: pedestrian Mrs. Maude Brydges, 817 McClure; Susan Hamilton, 4½, Clark Road, Brentwood; Gary Lee, 548 Fisgard; Jack Eng, 535 Fisgard, and Lee Chan, 4170 Granville; Mrs. Joyce Danielson, 3255 Wetherby, and her children Lynn, nine, and Dennis, six; Mrs. George L. Smith, 137 Kingham; John Larsen, 2709 Fifth.

Forger Given Year in Jail

Robert William Hutton, 1710 Fort, was sentenced in city police court today to one year in jail on a charge of uttering a forged document. "You've already compiled quite a record for a young man," Magistrate H. C. Hall commented.

DOWNHILL RUN NOW FOR THOSE LONGER DAYS

Winter arrived officially at 12.40 this morning in the middle of the year's longest night.

The sun rose at 8.025 a.m. after setting at 4.21 p.m. Sunday.

When it sets today Victoria will have rounded the turn with its shortest day—nine hours and 20 minutes of daylight—behind it. Tuesday's daylight period will be a minute longer.

The sun was approximately 91,400,000 miles away from the earth—furthest distance for the year—when it reached its winter solstice this morning for the official start of winter.

B.C. Fund to Aid Briggs Campaign

Establishment of a public "Power Enquiry Trust Fund," to assist H. Lee Briggs in his campaign to bring all facts before the Shrum Commission, was announced in Victoria today.

The movement, which began with a group of the deposed Power Commission manager's friends in Vancouver, has been set up to administer the fund, consisting of Air Marshall Sir Philip Livingston of Duncan; Dr. Gordon H. Grant, surgeon, Victoria; John Barclough, insurance executive, Victoria, and Colonel E. B. Westby, retired, of North Vancouver.

Monies contributed will be received by the chartered accountant firm of Chadwick, Beacom and Co. of New Westminster. Progressive reports on the balance of the fund will be made to newspapers, radio and TV stations, for public information.

If any balance exists after the Shrum Commission adjourns, monies in the fund will be turned over to the Canadian Red Cross.

A paragraph in the terms setting up the Power Enquiry Trust fund, released in Victoria today, reads:

"A trustee . . . is not personally committed to any stand or viewpoint whatsoever either for or against any of the matters which may or will come before the Shrum royal commission."

"In other words, we do not anticipate what the final judgment on the Briggs charges may be. What we are interested in is a full and free enquiry, for the assistance of the royal commission.

"We do not feel that Briggs, an unemployed executive, should be required to carry the entire burden for the province."

"Mr. Briggs' costs will undoubtedly run into many thousands of dollars and that is why we endorse the principle of a province-wide appeal to help him."

Cheques should be made payable to the "Power Enquiry Trust Fund" and forwarded to Chadwick, Beacom and Co. of New Westminster. Donations will be audited but not publicized.

Wine Producer S. B. Slinger Dies at 85

Stephen Bateman Slinger, 85, pioneer producer of Slinger's Victoria wine, died at his home at 1011 Pandora Street early today.

He came to B.C. from England in 1892 and founded a small wine-making concern which later became Victoria Wineries (B.C.) Ltd. and Growers Wine Co. Ltd., which still operate.

Mr. Slinger retired from the wine-making business in 1938. After the death of his wife, he lived quietly at his Victoria residence but had many friends.

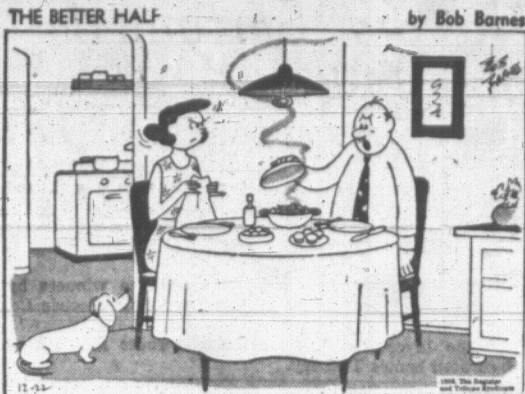

He is survived by two nephews and a niece in England.

Funeral services will be held at McCall Bros. funeral parlor Wednesday at 2.30 p.m., followed by interment at Royal Oak Burial Park.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

I wonder who ever thought up the idea of the office Christmas party? We can be sure of one thing. It wasn't a wife!

This is not written in bitterness. I never suffered because of them. My husband never remained for very long and I was even sometimes invited.

However, it really seems a barbaric idea to have a Christmas party at an office on Christmas Eve. This is traditionally a time for the family to be together. To be practical, this is a rushed time for almost everyone. There are usually last-minute errands to be done and often real help is needed at home.

Perhaps for the unattached men or women or those who are unhappy at home, this is a welcome diversion, but family men or women should not be expected to linger more than a short while—if at all! If a man's life at home is at all happy he will have things he wishes to do with his family on this very special and exciting day.

There is no doubt about it! The happiness of many a Christmas Eve has been ruined in many homes by the office social gathering. Too much to drink may make a man lose track of time and miss an engagement he had with his wife or children.

Some men may, without planning to, drink enough to make them less than their usual charming selves. Thus the fun of decorating the tree at home and other festivities of the season are somewhat spoiled for his family and for him, also.

Surveys have shown that fewer of these parties are held each year. Maybe everyone is getting tired of them or perhaps more people have realized how inappropriate they are. If there is going to be an office Christmas get together, why not have it a few days or a week earlier—not on that very special Eve which seems somehow to belong to families, or if there is no family, to those we love and are truly close to.

LOUISE DAVIS

On Etiquette

Thoughtful mother-in-law: My son never invites my husband and me for dinner because he says we don't need an invitation. How do I know how my daughter-in-law would feel if we barged in and said, "Here we are for dinner"? I always invite them in advance by calling my son's wife and feel that we shouldn't assume that we can come unannounced, nor would I even phone to ask if we could come. Who is right?

Louise Davis answers: You are right and without question! Your son should realize that you would undoubtedly be an unpopular and unwelcome mother-in-law should you take such liberties. I am sure that his wife would be equally annoyed if her own parents would do such a thing.

If she plans and prepares a dinner for two, how can she manage the stretch to four unless she is a super kitchen genius seven days a week and unless she has the disposition of a saint? Even a high salaried servant would be disgruntled at this repeated performance. Your son's wife isn't able to grab a magic wand and summon the fairy godmother for two more lamb chops and a double order of everything else at a moment's notice. You would do your son a good turn if you take him aside and explain the culinary facts of life to him. For the sake of harmony in his own home, he needs this briefing badly and no one should accuse you of being a meddling mother-in-law by doing it. I also hope you can get it across that he shouldn't take it upon himself to do the inviting without first getting the approval of his wife. There may be several good reasons why it would be inconvenient to have you to dinner next Wednesday night.

Off to Seattle

Miss Els Westra will leave for Vancouver Christmas Eve where she will meet her brother, Mr. Hal Westra. From there the two will drive to Seattle Christmas morning to spend the Yuletide with Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Potter and Miss Mia Varenhorst at "Thorchester," the Potter home in Alderwood Manor. Miss Westra will holiday in Washington until New Year's Eve when she and Miss Varenhorst will return to Vancouver for the New Year's week-end.

Going South

Mrs. J. L. Gates will leave for Seattle on Tuesday where she will spend Christmas Day with friends. On Boxing Day Mrs. Gates will go on to Sacramento, Calif., to visit friends and then to Pasadena for New Year's and the Rose Festival. She will visit in Los Angeles and in San Francisco before returning to Victoria in early February.

Annual Party

The League of Roses (Lancs and Yorks) held its annual Christmas party recently at 904 Government Street, with approximately 150 members and friends attending. Carols, solos, readings and a comedy were enjoyed. Carolers were Mrs. K. Hughes, Mrs. A. Inman and W. Fairhead; soloists, Mrs. G. Baker, Mrs. W. Firth and Mrs. F. Fairless. Vocal solos were given by Mrs. Fairhead and W. Booth and readings by Mrs. S. White. Mrs. Louise Rowen presented a comedy.

H. Inman officiated in presenting gifts from the tree, assisted by Mrs. A. Nuttall, Mrs. A. Inman, Mrs. K. Hughes and Mrs. S. McAllister. Mrs. C. Fairhead played for dancing. Mrs. Fairless was in charge of contests; Mrs. A. Jones, entertainment; Mrs. G. Baker and Mrs. Inman, parcels, and Mr. Booth and S. McAllister were at the door.

At Home Party

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Bett, Dover Road, entertained friends with an "at home" on Saturday evening.

Open House

Dr. and Mrs. W. N. English entertained with an open house party Sunday afternoon and early evening at their Admirals Road home. Guests were members of the marine physics section of the Pacific Naval Laboratory with their wives, friends and children.

Here for Christmas

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Brookbank, who are formerly of this city, will arrive from Woodstock, Ont., to spend the festive season with Mrs. Brookbank's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. Smith, at their home on Bay Street. They will return to their home in the East shortly after the new year.

Coming from Kelowna are Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Patterson, with their three children, Susan, Norman and Gail. The family will stay with Mr. Patterson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Patterson, at their home in Esquimalt, for the Christmas season.

Frills and Flowers; Perfumed Salon for Dior Millinery Show

LONDON (CP) — A spring hat collection featuring nearly every seasonal flower in the book is the first of a series linking the house of Dior with the British hat industry.

The collection, designed by Dior's successor, Yves St. Laurent, was made by the House of Dolores and receives its first showing in a flower-bedecked, perfumed salon near Oxford Street.

The distributors describe the collection as influenced by the fountains of Paris and by the colors of the flowers and head-dresses of the statues of fairy sprites which surround them.

CLOCHE PROMINENT

It is gay and frothy, with the cloche shape predominating. A variety of straw and grosgrain fabrics is used with pastel shades of green, blue and coral to the fore.

Where flowers are featured, they are used with abundance and sometimes it's difficult to see the hat under the horticulture.

One pink creation, looking as if the wearer had tumbled into a poppy field, is covered from corner to corner with the blooms. It is worn well down on the back of the head and over the ears.

Another eye-catcher is a cloche made entirely of lilies-of-the-valley, with a fringe of blossom falling softly on to the forehead. Hiding amid a swath of black tulle is a small white straw cloche worn high above the ears and trimmed with black satin-ribbon.

For cocktail wear, clusters of blooms in the form of headache bands are suggested. Two of the most dramatic are a single huge pink rose, worn atop the head with a stalk rising from the centre like an antenna, and a circle of black satin topped off with large black and yellow tulips.

A perfect way to use leftover turkey from your holiday meal are these hot-stuffed tomatoes with turkey salad.

Turkey Leftovers Make Tasteful Meals

How are you solving the problem of what to do with Christmas dinner leftovers this year? Do you have lots of ideas or could you use a few suggestions?

Top slices of turkey or ham you may have with bright spears of cooked broccoli and cover all with a rich cheese sauce. Then just bake for a few minutes to thoroughly heat all the ingredients. Another tasty entrée is fresh tomato cups, filled with turkey salad, topped with grated cheese and baked for 15 minutes. You'll find the combination of flavors is delicious.

A snowy head of cauliflower, cooked and topped with creamed turkey or chicken, provides another tempting way to use leftovers and, of course, there is always the turkey or chicken pie. Perhaps your holiday menu calls for a roast of beef, pork or lamb, and if that be the case then you just need to combine the leftover meat and gravy with carrots, celery, potatoes and onions for a wonderful entrée. Top the mixture with biscuits, dumplings, pastry or you might enjoy omitting the potatoes from the meat dish and heaping mashed potatoes on the top at the last minute for just a quick browning.

Here's a recipe you will want to try this holiday season after you have served roast turkey to your family.

It's tomatoes stuffed with turkey salad and baked.

Hot Stuffed Tomatoes With Turkey Salad

Six medium-large tomatoes, 2 cups cubed, cooked or canned turkey, 1 cup diced celery, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 2 tablespoons chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup mayonnaise, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, salt and pepper, 1/2 cup grated American cheese.

Method: Remove stem end from tomatoes. Take out centers and seeds, leaving half-inch wall. Drain upside-down while preparing filling. Combine turkey, celery, green pepper, onion salt, mayonnaise and lemon juice. Sprinkle inside of tomatoes with salt and pepper. Stuff tomatoes with salad mixture and top with grated cheese. Bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for 15 minutes. Makes six servings.

Greetings!

Lady Baden Powell, world chief Guide, in a personal letter written to Mrs. Ambrose Gosling, Greater Victoria area commissioner, sent the following message: "Give your Guides and Guiders my loving greetings, please. I do not forget the very happy time I had with them in 1955."

CLUBWOMEN'S NEWS

Pageant—At the Christmas meeting of Metropolitan United Church Woman's Missionary Society, Afternoon Auxiliary, a nativity pageant in scripture reading and song, was presented by Rev. E. LUXITE—by Kayser
in nylon-stretch knit

You see all the smarter girls wearing these with a pretty top for lounging with pleated skirts for shopping, or with their short, pert skating skirts. Stretch knit fits like a dancer's leotards glamour shapes from waist to toe-tips. Sizes small, medium, large $4.95

TODAY'S GRAIN

WINNIPEG (CP) — Dealings were fairly quiet today although some activity developed in flax. Prices of all grains generally were firm. Flax rallied in late trade as buying by international interests appeared on recessions, prompted by fair offerings influenced by reports of weaknesses on the linseed oil market.

Oats and barley prices were firm under shipper support. Trade reports indicated fair export business in oats and barley out of the Pacific Coast but this was not reflected in the trade here.

Rye showed modest rallies, reflecting U.S. market advances.

Weekend export wheat loadings included: United Kingdom 200,000 bushels, Belgium 45,000 and West Germany 40,000.

Pipelines were the best winners among industrials. Interprovincial led the group, up 1 1/2 at 48 1/2. Canada Cement added 1 at 34 1/2.

In Western Oils Calgary & Edmonton added 1/2 at 26, but Pacific Petroleum eased 1/2 at 17 1/2.

Most affected oil was U.S. Creole Petroleum, a subsidiary of Standard Oil (New Jersey). Creole dropped about 4 on the American stock exchange.

Industrials Lead Slide

Toronto's industrials slid toward their biggest day's loss in nearly a month today, off more than 1 1/2 points on the index.

The rest of the market followed the downward trend, with base metals off 1 1/2 and golds down 1/4.

Wall Street, too, had a retreat, but it was moderate, led by oil after news that Venezuela was boosting tax and royalty payments 10 per cent to 60.

AT TORONTO the 2 p.m. volume was 1,908,000 shares, compared with Friday's 1,810,000 at the same hour.

Two speculative issues accounted for a good share of the volume. Quebec Asot was the most active issue, trading 190,000 shares. It climbed to 74 cents shortly after noon, then dipped to 65 cents, down 2 cents on the session. Sapphire Pete was up 21 cents at $1.50 on 77,000 shares.

Pipelines were the best winners among industrials. Interprovincial led the group, up 1 1/2 at 48 1/2. Canada Cement added 1 at 34 1/2.

In Western Oils Calgary & Edmonton added 1/2 at 26, but Pacific Petroleum eased 1/2 at 17 1/2.

Most affected oil was U.S. Creole Petroleum, a subsidiary of Standard Oil (New Jersey). Creole dropped about 4 on the American stock exchange.

Jersey Standard dropped more than a point.

Canadian issues declined. International Nickel dropped 1 1/2, McIntyre Porcupine and Hudson Bay Mining 1/2 and Aluminum Ltd. 1/4. Dome Mines and Granby Mining made small advances.

At noon, the Associated Press 60-stock index was off 50 cents to $209.40.

On the American stock exchange, a number of Canadian shares cut morning gains. An exception was Sapphire Petroleum which went ahead 1/4.

AT MONTREAL prices were irregularly lower in moderate trading early this afternoon.

In the pipelines Interprovincial gained 1 1/2 at 48 1/2 and TransCanada lost 1 1/2 at 27 1/2.

Off 1/2 in the banks were Montreal at 56 1/2 and Toronto-Dominion at 51 1/2. Royal lost 1 1/2 at 74 1/2, and Nova Scotia declined 1/2 at 68 1/2.

Industrial volume was 56,000 shares, mines and oils 220,500.

LONDON activity declined on the stock exchange today. Selective firm spots appeared in industrials, steels and engineering shares. There was little demand for copper or South African golds.

Canadian stocks recorded some strong gains but American issues were mainly easier. Gilt-edged securities were firm.

AT VANCOUVER mines were active with stronger prices during the forenoon.

Capital Estates sold 1,900 at $10. Cowichan Copper traded 6,000 at 93. Sheep Creek moved 3,500 at $11.2. Trojan traded 20,000 at 15. Sunshine Lardeau moved 6,000 at 17.

Tonight you can shop at EATON'S until 9 p.m., so scurry right down, finish your shopping, and put your mind at ease. If you can't come in, or you are still in a quandary about certain gifts... call EATON'S Personal Shopper (she's especially helpful to you bashful men shoppers!).

More about Eaton's

My grief... just 48 hours left to shop! But don't worry, opposite you'll find a whole page of wonderful gift suggestions for last-minute shoppers and every one is sure to please... and just look, each one is priced 5.00 and under, for those of you who are shopping on a budget. We hope they'll save you the time, trouble, wear and tear of hunting for gift ideas... Below you'll find several tips to help you with your last-minute shopping.

Personal Shopper

If you can't get a sitter to stay with the children, or your office hours just don't lend themselves to Christmas shopping, just pick up the telephone, Dial EV 2-7141, ask for the Personal Shopper... this wonderful gal will find just the right gifts for everyone on your list. There is no charge for this service, you just pay for the gifts.

Delivery Notes

Planning on buying a refrigerator or Hi-Fi before the big day? And are you wondering just how to get it home and under the tree? Well, our delivery boys are the greatest and will come at a time when the coast is clear... or leave your gifts at a neighbour's if you wish (don't forget to tell them). Any gifts you buy up to 5.00 p.m. Wednesday will be delivered before the 25th.

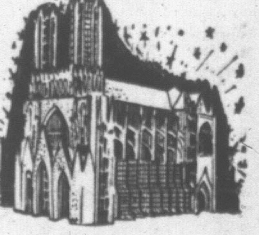

Glamour Gifts

We won't say a word if you bring your gifts to our expert Gift Wrappers on the second floor... and if you don't say a word, you'll be showered with the most extravagant compliments, for your gifts will be the most exquisite under the tree. Just tell the girl what kind of wrap you'd like and for a modest charge she'll do a wonderful transformation job for you.

Dial EV 2-7141

Good grief... you just remembered that you had completely forgotten Aunt Mabel's gift... and there is just no way to get to EATON'S before the deadline. Well, relax... just pick up the telephone and dial EV 2-7141, ask for the Order Line or the department concerned, and your worries are over. The service is quick and efficient and for a small charge your present will be wrapped.

Repeat Performance

If you haven't seen our lovely "Mirror Cathedral" windows yet, plan to come down soon. We showed them in our Easter windows a few years ago, and have had many requests for a repeat performance. These exquisite scale models of famous cathedrals the world over present a breathtakingly beautiful scene. Don't miss it! In our Douglas and View Street windows.

THOUGHTS FOR CHRISTMAS

The Last Musings
Of Victoria's
'Grand Old Man'

On Dec. 5 Victoria's "Grand old man," Herbert Kent, died at the age of 95 years, five months. He left behind him a remarkable testament of his philosophy, which seems particularly apropos at this Christmas-time.

With the kind permission of his family, The Times takes pleasure in printing herewith the second of four extracts from Herbert Kent's papers, which he called: "Some Musings and Recollections":

By HERBERT KENT

Recollections clinging to home and garden may have a streak of sentiment about them, but the man without such is a sorry spectacle.

One incident in my life I shall always remember. It was when I was quite a young lad and we were living in a house on the site of the Curry Funeral Parlors. Subsequent to our living there the house became Mrs. Cridge's School for Girls, and among those who attended were Georgie Waitt (later my wife), Miss Loewen (later Lady Barnard) and Miss Galley (later Mrs. Matson).

During our residence there I contracted diphtheria—how I know not—and the treatment in those days was to tie a small sponge on the end of a stick, put some caustic solution on it and swab the throat. Not a very pleasant cure but at that period quite effective. The doctor (J. W. Powell) called with the sponge, etc., and coaxed me to open my mouth. This took some time until my mother, in order to expedite the job, promised to give me 10 cents if I would do what the doctor wanted.

This did the trick, because 10 cents in those days was a large amount for a boy to have to spend, but very small

30 Killed In Bus Plunge

ATHENS (AP)—A crowded bus plunged off a mountain road into a 1,000-foot ravine 15 miles northeast of Yennena, Greece, today, killing 30 passengers and injuring five.

Most of the victims were teen-aged school girls returning to their villages in northwestern Greece from Yennena to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents.

Bodies of the victims were found strewn along the steep mountain slope down the side of the ravine. Several bodies were carried away by a stream at the bottom.

Ferry
Tie-Up
'Illegal'

See also Page 19

VANCOUVER (CP)—Manager B. O. Tollefson of the strike-bound Black Ball Ferries said today he is applying to the British Columbia Supreme Court for an injunction declaring the four-day strike by the Seafarers International Union illegal.

If the injunction is granted, the marine engineers unions will run the four ships of Black Ball lines with or without SIU crews.

It was not certain today whether the SIU would order its men back to work if the company application is granted. SIU port agent Norm Cunningham said "they grant injunctions all over the place... but I don't know how they can get the men back to work again."

Mr. Cunningham said that in his view the strike is legal. Labor Minister Lyle Wicks has refused to state what the department of labor's view was on the legality of the walkout.

The company and two officers' unions, however, have said that in their opinion the walkout is not legal.

Next day the whole ferry service was brought to a stop, and the SIU began demanding a 25 per cent wage increase.

This is the wage boost which it sought unsuccessfully earlier this year.

Meanwhile, Canadian Pacific Steamships announced today they have added two more trips between Vancouver and Nanaimo to assist in handling the Christmas rush. The two extra trips will run daily through Christmas Eve.

Tenement
Blast Kills
3 Children

MONTREAL (CP)—The bodies of three children and one adult were taken today from the rubble of an east-end tenement building on Gascon Avenue after a sudden explosion heaved the roof off and tore the walls apart. Fire made rescue work hazardous.

It was not known at the time if more bodies were in the debris—beds, bath and bricks piled atop huge chunks of wood.

Three of the four bodies were identified as Lucy Goralczyk, 2; Nellie Goralczyk, 5, and John Raczowski, 42.

The fourth body was believed that of a son of John Raczowski.

Four persons were in hospital. One was reported in serious condition.

The blast shattered the brick and wood building, flipping debris into the street and smothering a nearby parked automobile.

Cause of the explosion was not known, but an official of Quebec Natural Gas Corporation said investigators searching the ruins and neighboring buildings so far have not found traces of gas.

SHOOTING VICTIM

Shot to death Sunday by neighbor who mistook him for marauding dog was Arrie Schut, 6½, third from right (arrow) in this family photograph. Also in picture are, from left, Gerald,

2, Mrs. Alie Schut, Frank, 4, Rene, 7, and Dick, 8. Their distraught father, a Dutch immigrant, said today he "feels sorry" for neighbor Adam Reisch.

Slain Nurse Dug Up;
Was She Buried Alive?

VENTURA, Calif. (AP)—Police fitted in the pieces today of a plot they said led to the brutal killing of attractive Olga Duncan, a Canadian-born nurse whose bruised body was found in a shallow grave beside a lonely road.

An itinerant laborer, with a local police record, climaxed his tale of what he said was a hired slaying by leading officers Sunday to her hand-scooped grave.

Augustine Baldonado, 25, said in a statement that the dead woman's mother-in-law, Mrs. Elizabeth Duncan, 54, hired him and Luis Moya, 22, to kill five-months-pregnant Olga Duncan for $6,000.

70 Die in Bus Crash,
2 Tots Only Survivors

OAXACA, Mex. (AP)—Seventy persons were killed Sunday in one of Mexico's worst highway accidents. An overcrowded, speeding bus plunged into a ravine near this tropical city in southern Mexico.

There were only two survivors, a baby and a boy of 3. Both were critically injured.

The bus, with a legal capacity of 40 persons, was packed with villagers from San Dionisio Ocotepc returning from Sunday market day at nearby Tlacolula. Many were riding on top of the bus, hanging onto its doors, and on the rear bumper. They were in a holiday mood.

The driver apparently lost control of his speeding vehicle on a curve and ran off the road.

Bodies were scattered over an area 100 yards square. Persons from San Dionisio Ocotepc quickly gathered at the scene, looking for friends or kin. There were cries and shouts, weeping and cursing.

Among the dead was one of the owners of the bus line, Julio Ortiz Diaz.

Investigators said the 30-year-old victim may have been buried alive. They quoted Baldonado: "I don't know. We strangled her, and I think we killed her before we put her in the ground."

One officer called it "the most cold-blooded crime I've ever heard of."

The victim, a surgical nurse, had been missing since Nov. 18. She was the estranged wife of Santa Barbara lawyer Frank Duncan. They separated two weeks after their marriage last June.

District Attorney Roy Gustafson said jealousy of the older woman toward her daughter-in-law was the major motive.

Investigators said two additional arrests might be made in the case, but would give no clue as to the identity of the individuals.

Coroner Virgil L. Payton, meantime, indicated that because the murdered nurse was carrying a child of more than five months' development, the case possibly would be considered a double homicide.

Less than four months before her death, the dead woman had written her mother, Mrs. Jessie Kupczyk of Benito, Man., that Mrs. Duncan held "an uncanny hold" over her son. She said she planned an annulment.

"Don't dwell on my troubles," Olga Duncan wrote. "Life is short, and I want to enjoy the rest of it."

Moya, who has denied knowledge of the slaying, was de-

Neighbor Thought
Marauding Dog
Was at Woodpile

By DAVID COWLISHAW

The 6½-year-old son of a Dutch immigrant was shot dead on his parents' small farm in Central Saanich Sunday by a neighbor who mistook the boy for a dog that had been attacking his rabbits.

Dead is Arrie Joannes Schut, one of five children of Dick Schut, 6929 Veyannes, a plywoods patcher at B.C. Forest Products.

The neighbor, Adam Reisch, a dairyman who lives near the Schut home, was charged with manslaughter. Reisch, free on $5,000 bail, will appear in court again Dec. 30.

Central Saanich police say the Schut boy died from a bullet from a .22 rifle which apparently entered one shoulder, passed right through his body, and left through the other shoulder.

Inquest has been set tentatively at McCall's Funeral Home for 10 a.m. Wednesday.

According to police, the shooting took place shortly after noon Sunday when young Arrie went to play with a ball near a woodpile at the back of the ramshackle wood house.

Police said Reisch was sitting in his house, paralleling the Schuts' home 100 yards away. He apparently noticed movement near the woodpile, believed it to be a dog that recently had been attacking his rabbits, grabbed a .22 rifle and went out the back of his house.

Police said Reisch then saw something move again near the woodpile, and fired.

Then he went back indoors.

Found Boy Crawling Toward House

Meanwhile the boy's mother, Mrs. Alie Schut, had heard the shot and went outside to find her son groaning slightly and crawling toward the house.

Dr. Leonard Bapty, who lives nearby, was called, but the boy was dead. The bullet that killed him passed through one shoulder and out the other.

Reisch, a 35-year-old bachelor, was taken into custody shortly after.

The dead boy's 39-year-old father said today he "felt sorry" for Reisch.

"He is lonely and he often used to come to watch our television. We have nothing against him. Being bitter will not bring our boy back."

Schut said his son looked "like a dead deer" when he got to him.

"The eyes were strange. If you've ever seen an animal that's just been shot, you will know what I mean."

Then Schut knuckled his fists into his eyes and cried for a few moments.

"Sorry," he said, "but this is terrible happening just a few days before Christmas. We were going to have such a good time."

"You can't lose a son and not cry about it."

Mrs. Schut said she didn't believe what she saw when she first spotted Arrie-lying on the ground near the woodpile.

"It was horrible, horrible. Rene (her only daughter) suggested we might be able to revive him by putting water on his head and in his mouth. She said she had seen it done on television."

'It Was No Good... Arrie Had Gone'

"We tried it, but it was no good. Arrie had gone."

As Mrs. Schut stood in the back garden of their small farm home today, her other children clustered around her—Dick, 8, Frank, 4, and Gerald, 2.

"They don't seem to understand what has happened," Mrs. Schut said. "They can't realize."

Her husband put his arm around her and looked red-eyed over the 5½ acres he bought to "try and make a decent living for my family."

"I am growing strawberries and cabbages," he said. "It's not much of a place but we were making something of it."

'God Says We Must Forgive, Forget'

"But God says we must forget and forgive. We will do it, but it is not always easy. Especially when your son has been taken from you."

The boy had attended grade one at Keating Elementary School.

Central Saanich Police Chief Fred Brownlee said Reisch was arrested shortly after police arrived at the Schut home some time after 1 o'clock Sunday afternoon. He was released on bail later in the day.

Reisch could not be located this morning. The shutters of his a-building home were tightly drawn, and only a black cat was seen near the premises.

At the back of the house a

Now I don't know if I feel like going on."

He paused to dab at his eyes with a large red handkerchief, then went on. "There are so many bills, bills, bills. How can we pay them?" and he wandered back into the house, his family trailing behind him.

Inside they sat around the kitchen table and took out a folder of family pictures. A small green alarm clock ticked merrily as they looked gloomily at photographs of their dead son and brother, and wood in the stove crackled nearby.

"Only yesterday we cut the Christmas tree," the father said. "Then, 20 minutes later, my boy is dead."

small shack carried a notice, "This property has been condemned."

Reisch worked as a farm hand for Dr. Leonard Bapty, who examined the shot boy.

Funeral will be at the Church of Assumption, West Saanich Road, 10 a.m. Saturday, Rev. Father W. Hanley the celebrant. Interment in the churchyard.

SHANTYTOWN SMASHED BY STORM, 31 KILLED

RIO DE JANEIRO (Reuters) — Thirty-one persons were reported killed and thousands injured and homeless today as a result of an unprecedented all-night rainstorm.

Police recovered 23 bodies, but many more victims were known to be buried under shantytown huts and landslides of rock and sand.

The mayor opened the big Maracanan soccer stadium as a temporary shelter for the thousands of homeless families.

scribed by Santa Barbara sheriff John Ross as badly shaken upon learning of Baldonado's statement.

"How could he say that?" Moya asked. "Believe me, I believe me!"

Mrs. Duncan, too, has insisted she knows nothing of her daughter-in-law's disappearance. Gustafson said she gave no statement when questioned again after finding of the body.

Police say Mrs. Duncan has been married five times in eight years. She is charged with posing in court here as her son's wife, along with a judge's confederate, to obtain a fraudulent annulment of her son's marriage last August.

Olga came here from Vancouver a year ago. She was born near Dauphin, Man.

It was the discovery of the spurious annulment, authorities say, that caused them to begin an intensive search for the missing daughter-in-law.

FACE KIDNAP CHARGE

Charges are on file at Santa Barbara accusing Mrs. Duncan, Moya and Baldonado of conspiring to kidnap and murder Olga Duncan. They are held in lieu of $100,000 bail apiece.

Gustafson said he intends to present murder charges against all three at a session of the grand jury in Ventura Friday.

Police, led by Baldonado, found the body of the 30-year-old Canadian nurse, clothed only in a filmy nylon bathrobe, buried at the bottom of a 20-foot embankment on Casitas Pass, 19 miles northwest of Ventura.

Baldonado said she fought bitterly for her life in the early hours of Nov. 18 before being strangled unconscious with a pistol.

KILLED BY TURNS

Gustafson quoted Baldonado as saying he and Moya took turns holding the struggling woman while the other dug the 16-inch-deep grave. Both men throttled her, Baldonado's statement said.

Baldonado was further quoted as saying he and Moya went to Olga Duncan's Santa Barbara apartment after midnight November 17 and forced her at gunpoint to accompany them.

In Benito, Man., Elias Kupczyk, was told by a reporter his daughter's body had been found.

"I believed that they would find my daughter alive," he murmured.

Kupczyk, a railroad worker, was reached by telephone. His wife answered and insisted on being told what the call was about. When told her daughter was dead, she left the telephone with a moan.

Mrs. Kupczyk was taken to Benito Hospital for what was described as a nervous breakdown. Her condition was fairly good.

Frost Adds Four Men In Cabinet Shuffle

TORONTO (CP)—Premier Frost today brought four new men into the Ontario cabinet and announced the resignation of Provincial Secretary Dunbar.

In a major cabinet shuffle, four other cabinet members relinquished double portfolios or assumed new posts.

James A. Maloney, 53, member for Renfrew South, was appointed minister of mines.

George C. Wardrop, 62, member for Port Arthur, became minister for reform institutions.

John P. Roberts, 41, member for London North, becomes minister without portfolio and a member of Ontario water resources commission.

John H. Root, 50, member for Wellington-Dufferin, becomes minister without portfolio.

4 Canadians Die as Plane Hits Peak

PISTOIA, Italy—Italian rescue squads worked in wind and rain today to bring down the bodies of four Canadian air force men killed in a crash Sunday night on a wooded Appennine peak.

Faint walkie-talkie messages from rescuers on the scene of the disaster indicated no trace of a fifth man who according to the C-47 transport's home base at Gros Tenquin, France, was also aboard the crashed RCAF Dakota.

The plane, on routine transport flight from Gros Tenquin to Pisa, crashed in a windstorm on the summit of Poggio Cristallo, 3,000 feet up in the Appennines north of here. Some peasants said they saw the plane explode in flight.

The scene was little more than 20 miles from the spot where another RCAF transport crashed landed nine days ago, injuring three.

'COULD START WAR'

Secret Rocket Firings Rapped

WASHINGTON (CP)—Fear that an unannounced satellite launching could accidentally touch off nuclear war is expressed in a report drafted by a congressional committee's staff.

The report was prepared before the launching of the new Atlas satellite—a plan known beforehand to only 35 men.

But George J. Feldman, staff director for the House of Representatives' special committee on astronautics and space exploration, said Saturday:

"The launching of Atlas gives particular moment to the report. The danger is clear and present, as the committee staff pointed out."

The report posed this question: what if Russia or the U.S. mistakes an unannounced satellite launching for a war missile and fires off a counter attack?

It also recommended an answer: require advance filing of satellite flight plans.

Before the Atlas took off even persons in the blockhouse thought it was to be another test of its qualities as an intercontinental ballistic missile. The report said:

"The technically advanced nations could some day obliterate themselves—not for any real cause, but purely through accident—by throwing the automatic war switch in the mistaken belief that an attack is being made. Conversely, the lack of flight plans might mean inability to protect oneself if a real attack occurs."

Meanwhile, scientists were ready today for more two-way radio contacts with the U.S. Atlas missile-satellite, now in its fourth day of hurtling about the globe.

There were indications defence department communications specialists might try new tests later in the day.

Radio contacts—like those carried out successfully during the last few days—are attempted when the nearly 4½-ton satellite reaches a favorable position in relation to four sending and receiving stations in the United States.

The weekend saw a number of voice and radio-teletype messages transmitted to the fast-travelling satellite and relayed back to posts in California, Georgia, Texas and Arizona.

Most of the words that flashed back and forth were those of President Eisenhower in the message sent up with the Atlas in recorded form, then erased by remote control and sent again.

The weekend tests involved (1) relaying Eisenhower's voice-recorded message, (2) relaying in coded form—that message and another by radio-teletypewriter, and (3) leaving the messages in the satellite's tape recorder for a while before triggering their transmission to ground stations.

Sunday afternoon, a station at Fort Stewart, Ga., sent out seven teletypewriter messages simultaneously to the Atlas. All seven messages carried Eisenhower's words. Then, on radio command, all seven were returned from the satellite simultaneously.

'Small World' Still Silent

LONDON (AP)—Radio amateurs throughout Western Europe and North Africa failed during the weekend to pick up any message from four Britons trying to sail across the Atlantic in a balloon.

Nothing has been heard from the balloon, the Small World, since Friday. Even then the craft's radio operator, Tim Elliott, failed to give his position.

The three men and one woman set off 10 days ago from the Canary Islands to drift with the trade winds to Barbados, in the West Indies. The last reported position was about 250 miles south of the Canaries.

1,500 DAYS WITHOUT A FATALITY

MEDICINE HAT, Alta. (CP)—Motorists today parked free of charge on Medicine Hat streets in observance of this southeastern Alberta city's traffic fatality-free record.

On Sunday, Medicine Hat passed 1,500 days without a traffic fatality, a North American record for cities of 20,000 or more, and gay blue and red caps were placed on the city's 500 meters to allow a day of free parking.

The city traffic committee immediately set a new goal—1,600 traffic fatality-free days.

Goldfine Jailed 3 Months, Fined $1,500 for Contempt

BOSTON (AP)—Industrialist Bernard Goldfine and his blonde secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, today were given jail terms by a federal court for criminal contempt in failure to furnish tax officials with full records of Goldfine textile mills.

Goldfine was ordered to serve three months and Miss Paperman 10 days. Judge Charles E. Gwyanski Jr., who convicted them last Friday, said the sentences will start Jan. 7.

In a separate action immediately afterward, the two were fined on civil contempt charges brought by the United States Security and Exchange Commission.

Judge Wyzanski fined Goldfine $1,500 and Miss Paperman $500. Alwyn Jealous, an officer of Goldfine's East Boston Company, a realty firm, also was fined $500. All were charged with failing to file required reports with the SEC.

The government told the court the reports now have been filed and the civil contempt has been cured. The only avenue of punishment was a fine for expenses incurred in securing the reports.

In delaying imprisonment until Jan. 7, the judge said to Goldfine:

"I have no wish that you spend this season in jail and I wish to give you adequate opportunity to present this case to the court of appeals. Bail is denied."

GOLDFINE DISMAYED

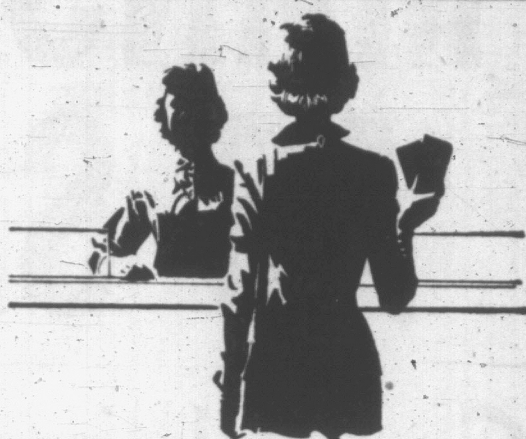

A look of dismay crossed the 67-year-old Goldfine's face as he stood behind a railing separating him from six defence lawyers.

Miss Paperman sagged a bit as the judge passed sentence.

THIRD CONTEMPT

Goldfine also is involved in a third contempt case. He pleaded not guilty last Friday to a contempt of Congress charge in Washington in connection with his alleged failure to answer questions about his financial affairs before a congressional subcommittee last summer.
